Attendance Notes: The three largest gate attractions at Memorial Stadium in 1973 were all Saturday night giveaways: 1—42,180 vs. Oak. (helmets) on July 7 . . . 2—30,574 vs. Chi. (autographed balls) on Aug. 18 . . . 3—29,509 vs. Det. (caps) on July 28. The opening day turnout of 26,543 on Fri., Apr. 6th (vs. Mil.) represented the fourth largest crowd of the home season.

On the road the Orioles drew 224,376 more than they did at home while topping the one million mark for the 8th straight year. In all the Orioles played to four crowds in excess of 40,000 on the road and three others over 30,000 (i.e. a total of seven dates of 30M or more on the road vs. only two at home) . . .

The Orioles two biggest crowds of the year were both in Detroit—48,273 for a Sunday doubleheader on July 1 and 46,389 for opening day at Tiger Stadium on April 11th. The Birds also played to 43,571 for a Monday family night in Oakland on July 16 and 40,257 for a Sunday game at Anaheim Stadium on July 20.

FARM SYSTEM NOTES

Best Minor League Record: All five teams in the Orioles' farm system produced winning records last season and finished with a composite record of over ".500" for the 12th consecutive year in 1973, with 341 wins and 295 losses (.536). During the 12-year period beginning in 1962, the Birds' minor league system has achieved the highest won-lost percentage (4602-3948, .538) among all 24 big league organizations.

The Orioles have been chosen as the Topps "Baseball Organization of the Year" three times in the past eight years: 1966, 1971 and 1972. The winner of the annual award is determined by a formula that emphasizes the quality of individual prospects in a baseball system rather than team won-lost records.

The 1973 Season

Rochester won the American Division championship of the International League with a 79-67 record under Manager Joe Altobelli on the final day of the regular season head to head with second place Pawtucket (Red Sox). However, the Red Wings were eliminated in the first round of playoffs and Pawtucket ultimately won the International League title. It was the tenth time in the 13 years (beginning 1961) that the Orioles have worked with the Wings that they had qualified for the playoffs. They also led the league in attendance for the 12th straight year.

Slugging outfielder Jim Fuller was selected as the International League's "most valuable player" after leading the league in home runs (39), rbi (108) and total bases (279). He fell just three short of Rochester's home run record, set in 1949 by Russ Derry, and was just two shy of the league's strikeout record (199, set by Dave Nicholson in 1968). Fuller was the fifth Rochester player to have won the league "mvp" award in the past eight seasons: Mike Epstein ('66), Merv Rettenmund ('68), Roger Freed ('70) and Bobby Grich ('71).

Third baseman Doug DeCinces joined Fuller on the International League's all star team after finishing second on the club in homers (19) and rbi (79), tying Fuller for the doubles leadership (25) and hitting .267.

Asheville finished second in the eastern division but did not qualify for playoffs since only the two division winners are eligible in the Southern League. The Orioles boasted the league's best "keystone combination" in second baseman Rob Andrews (brother of former Oakland infielder Mike), who led the league in hitting (.309), hits (167) and runs (98) while driving in 80 runs, and shortstop Bob Bailor, a .293 hitter who was second in the league in steals with 38. Each led at his position in double plays and both were Southern League all star team selections. Another all star selection was catcher Don Hickey (.291), from Arlington, Va. Taylor Duncan, who came to the Orioles in the Earl Williams deal from Atlanta, led the league in doubles with 30 on a .293 average, and designated hitter-catcher Terry Clapp paced the league in both home runs (35) and rbi (98) and was the only Southern League player chosen to the National Association Baseball Writers "All-AA" team.

Among pitchers, Randy Stein was the leader with a 14-6 record and 2.83 era.

Lodi breezed to the California League's first half championship with a 46-24 record, but slumped to seventh with a 31-39 mark in the second half, then rallied to beat Bakersfield, the Dodgers' farm team that won the second half title, in a best of three playoff to capture the California League pennant.

Jim Schaffer was elected "manager of the year" in the California League, while first baseman Mike Satterlee, a second round choice in the 1970 summer draft, and pitcher Larry McCall made the loop all star team. Satterlee hit .300 with 19 homers while McCall, an undrafted free agent back in 1971, was 14-7, led the league in complete games (16) and walked only 35 batters while striking out 139 in 207 innings.

The Lions, owned for the past two seasons by prominent Japanese businessman Nagayoshi Nakamura who also owns the Taiheiyo Club Lions in Japan's Pacific League (the club for which Don Buford and Roger Repoz played in 1973), have been sold to a group of Lodi businessmen.

Miami ended its string of four straight Florida State League titles and five consecutive southern division titles by finishing second to the West Palm Beach Expos. The Baby Birds were then eliminated in the first round of playoffs. Second baseman Kim Andrew paced the Florida State League in hitting with a .336 average while lefthander Ken Califano, former Essex Community College athlete, posted an 11-5 record and a 2.58 era.

Miami General Manager Red Morcroft, a National Football League official since 1960, served as the umpire in the officiating crew that worked the Miami-Minnesota Superbowl Game at Houston in January.

Bluefield first baseman Ed Murray, Baltimore's third pick in last summer's free agent draft, was voted "rookie of the year" in the Appalachian League after hitting .331. He was joined by three other Orioles on the league all star team: outfielder Rodney Lee, a 1972 free agent draft who hit .303; pitcher Russ Peach, who was chosen the league's top lefthander after posting a 5-1 record; and Mike Parrott, the Birds first choice in the summer draft of 1973, who was one of three righthanders tapped for the all star team. He was 5-4.

Minor League Player(s) of the Year: Six Orioles' farmhands have been named "minor league player of the year" in the past eight years, either by Topps Chewing Gum with its Spink Award or by THE SPORTING NEWS which chooses its own candidate by vote of staff members. It started for the Orioles in 1966 when Mike Epstein won both awards. In 1968 Merv Rettenmund was also a dual winner. In 1970 there were two different selections, but both were Orioles prospects. Don Baylor was tapped by THE SPORTING NEWS, while Roger Freed, a Rochester teammate, was the Topps winner. Bobby Grich captured both trophies in 1971 and Mike Reinbach was the 1972 co-winner of the Topps Trophy along with the Dodgers' Tom Paciorek.

Farm System Managers and Minor League Pitching Instructor

Joe Altobelli will return for his fourth season as manager of the Red Wings. He has finished first in two of his three seasons at Rochester. In 1971, his first year there, the Wings, under his leadership, not only won the International League pennant, they captured two rounds of intra-league playoffs, then defeated American Association champion Denver in the junior world series. Joe, a 41-year-old native of Detroit, was chosen that year as the International League's "manager of the year."

He began his managerial career in June 1966, at Bluefield in the Appalachian Rookie League, and won a pennant there in 1967. He ran the Stockton club (California League) in 1968 then managed at Dallas-

Ft. Worth (Texas League) in 1969 and 1970. Joe spent 16½ years as a player (first baseman) in pro ball and saw limited major league service with two clubs: Cleveland (1955 and 1957) and Minnesota (1961), and compiled a .210 average in 166 American League games.

Most of Joe's playing career was at the triple-a level. In 1960, while playing at Montreal, he led the International League with 31 home runs. Later he played 3½ seasons for the Red Wings before retiring in 1966 to begin his managing career.

He now makes his home in Rochester with his wife, Pat, and five children: Michael, Mark, Jody, Jackie and Jerry.

Cal Ripken (Asheville), a 38-year-old former catcher, has spent 18 years in the Orioles organization as player, coach and manager. He will return to Asheville this year for his third straight season in the Southern League. Cal has managed in the Baltimore system since 1961 in such places as Leesburg (FSL), Aberdeen, S.D. (Northern), Tri-City (Northwest), Miami (FSL), Elmira (Eastern), Dallas-Ft. Worth (Texas), Rochester (International) and Clearwater (Fla. Instructional). He has twice won pennants, in Aberdeen in 1964 and Tri-City in 1965, and was chosen "manager of the year" both years. In addition to managing, Cal also serves as field coordinator for the Birds' minor league spring training camp at Biscayne College in Miami.

As a player Cal had a lifetime batting average of .253 for six seasons and progressed as high as triple-a. He began in 1957 at Phoenix (Arizona-Mexico), was a playing manager in 1961 and 1962, then retired from playing status after the 1962 season. Cal is a native of Aberdeen, Md., and still lives there in the off season with his wife, Vi, and four children: Ellen, Cal Jr., Freddie and William Oliver.

Jim Schaffer (Lodi), "manager of the year" in the California League last year after piloting the Lodi Lions to a loop championship, will return to Lodi for the third straight season. A veteran of 16 seasons as a catcher in pro ball, Jim retired at the end of the 1970 season and has since won two pennants in three seasons as a manager. During his career he saw service with six major league clubs, five in the National League. He broke into the majors with the Cardinals and later played with the Cubs, White Sox, Mets, Phillies and Reds, and also served a tour of duty in the Dodgers organization. He batted .223 in 304 major league games. He once played all nine positions in a minor league game.

In Jim's first year as a manager he won a pennant with the Bluefield Orioles in the Appalachian Rookie League, and was promoted to Lodi the next season.

He makes his home in Coopersburg, Pa., with his wife, Jeannine, and five children: Jimmie Mark, Steven, Thomas, Eric and Traci.

George Farson, like Cal Ripken and Jim Schaffer, is a catcher turned manager. The 32-year-old from Vernon Hill, Va., will manage the Miami Orioles in 1974, after two impressive seasons at the helm of the Bluefield rookies in the Appalachian League. He will also serve as a staff member at the Birds' minor league training camp at Biscayne College in Miami. George began his managing career in 1972 after ten seasons in the Baltimore system, from Bluefield to Rochester.

George and his wife, Sarah, live in Vernon Hill during the off season with their three children: Tammy Lynn, Sandi Lea and Michael.

Bobby Malkmus, 42, former infielder with the Braves (1957), Senators (1958-1959) and Phillies (1960 thru 1962), will manage at Bluefield in 1974 after piloting the Miami Orioles last year and the Birds' Lewiston farm team in the Northwest League where he won a pennant in 1972. After his retirement as a player following the 1966 season (at the time he was in the Phillies system), he managed in the Philadelphia and Montreal organizations before joining the Orioles in 1972.

Bobby makes his home in Union, N. J., with his wife, Ruth, and children Robin and James.

Ray Miller, a 28-year-old relief specialist who served at Rochester last year as player-pitching coach, is the Birds' new minor league pitching instructor, replacing Herman Starrette who went to the Atlanta Braves as their major league pitching coach.

Ray was acquired from the Cleveland organization during the 1971 season, and in the ensuing three years at Rochester appeared in 106 games, won 11, lost 8, and saved 18. Last season, however, he appeared in only 14 games and had a 1-1 record. He has played in organized baseball since breaking in at Lexington in the Western Carolinas League in 1964 and has pitched at the triple-a level for the past six seasons.

Ray, a native of Takoma Park, Md., now lives with his wife in New Athens, Ohio.

Fred Holmann Memorial Award: Named in memory of the long-time Orioles scout and former major league catcher who died in 1964 at the age of 70, this award is presented to a member of the Orioles' scouting and player development staff for outstanding service and dedication to the baseball "profession." Past winners: Barney Lutz (1965), Walter Youse (1966), Earl Weaver (1967), Jim Russo (1968), Don McShane (1969), Harry Dalton (honorary, 1969), Arthur Ehlers (1970), Cal Ripken (1971) and Frank McGowan (1972). No award was made in 1973.

Barney Lutz Player Award: The Orioles established this award in 1968 to honor the memory of Barney Lutz, an Orioles scout who died two years earlier. It is given "in recognition of his aggressiveness, competitive spirit, hustle and dedication to professional baseball." Past winners: infielder Billy Scripture (1968), pitcher Fred Beene, now with the Yankees (1969), infielder Paul Flesner (1970) and second baseman Rick Emard (1971). No award was made in 1973.

GRAND SLAM NOTES: Jim Gentile set an American League record and tied a major league mark in '61 when he hit five home runs with the bases full. The major league record had been established by Ernie Banks in '55 . . . Gentile also set a major league standard by hitting consecutive bases loaded home runs at Metropolitan Stadium (Minnesota) on 5/9/61 in the 1st inning off Pete Ramos and the 3rd off Paul Giel . . . In addition, Gentile also had a run producing single in that game to set a club record for rbi in a game (nine).

Frank Robinson became the second player in history to hit consecutive grand slams on 6/26/70 at R.F.K. Stadium in Washington, in the 5th off Joe Coleman and 6th off Joe Grzenda. Since then, Jim Northrup (Detroit) has duplicated that feat. Four other players (Lazzeri, Tabor, York and Cloninger) have hit two grand slams in a game, but they were not on consecutive plate appearances.

Brooks Robinson who has hit more at Memorial Stadium (4) than any other player once blasted bases loaded homers in successive games—at Dodger Stadium off Angels' Ken McBride on 5/6/62 and at Memorial Stadium off the K.C. A's Ed Rakow on 5/9/62.

One of Dave McNally's two grand slams was hit in the '70 World Series, off the Reds' Wayne Granger (3rd game) . . . Dave's was the 12th grand slam in series history, but the only one ever hit by a pitcher . . . Mike Cuellar hit his grand slam in the '70 ALCS off the Twins Jim Perry in Met Stadium . . . Mike remains the only player ever to hit a bases loaded home run in championship series competition in either league.

Four opponents have hit two grand slams in Memorial Stadium: Roy Sievers (Wash.), Bill Skowron (N.Y.), Mike Epstein (Wash.) and Rico Petrocelli (Bos.) . . . In all, opponents have hit 43 grand slams off Baltimore pitching including 23 in Memorial Stadium . . . Neither Harmon Killebrew nor Mickey Mantle has ever hit a grand slam against the O's although Killebrew has hit more home runs vs. O's than any other opponent as well as more in Memorial Stadium—65 (30) and Mantle ranks second with 54 (25).

LONG HOME RUNS/MEMORIAL STADIUM: The longest "measured" home run ever hit in Memorial Stadium was a 471' drive by Harmon Killebrew on May 24, 1964 off Milt Pappas over the hedge in left-center field . . . This exceeded by two feet the only other blast that has ever cleared the hedge . . . That was one by Boog Powell 469' to the same area off Boston's Don Schwall on June 22, 1962. Aside from these there have been three balls hit into the hedge (approximately 450'), by Mickey Mantle in 1954, by Powell in 1965 and by Frank Robinson in 1967.

Frank Robinson is the only player to have hit a ball completely out of Memorial Stadium. In the second game of a doubleheader with Cleveland on May 8, 1966, Frank hit a Luis Tiant offering over the left field stands and into the parking lot beyond, a drive that measured 451' on the fly and rolled to a stop 540' away from home plate.

Notes On 20-Game Winners

During the six years that George Bamberger has been the Orioles' pitching coach (starting in '68), the Birds' staff has produced 12 20-game winning performances. In the club's first 14 years of operation only one pitcher was able to reach that plateau—Steve Barber in 1963.

In this period Dave McNally and Jim Palmer have each been 20-game winners four times, Mike Cuellar has been there three times and Pat Dobson once.

In 1971 four Baltimore pitchers reached the 20-win level. The only other foursome in the entire history of major league baseball to have achieved that feat were four hurlers from the 1920 White Sox (51 years earlier): Urban "Red" Faber-23, Claude Williams-22, Dickie Kerr-21 and Ed Cicotte-21. Despite that achievement, incidentally, the White Sox that year finished second, two games back of Cleveland.

The four Orioles pitchers all reached the 20-win plateau within six days: McNally was first on 9/21, then in the same weekend series in Cleveland, the other three joined him: Cuellar (9/24—1st game—clinched pennant), Dobson (9/24—2nd game), Palmer (9/26).

FIELDING NOTES: For the fourth straight year the Orioles finished second in fielding percentage, this time trailing the Tigers (.982) by .001 with an average of .981. . . . The Birds have finished first ('63, '64, '66, '69) or second ('60, '61, '68, '70, '71, '72, '73) 11 times in the past 14 seasons.

Grich/Adair: Bobby Grich established a major league record for second basemen in 1973 by putting together a fielding percentage of .995 based on only five errors in 945 total chances while playing in all 162 games. He thus surpassed the former standard of .9939 set by Jerry Adair while with the Orioles in 1964. . . . At the same time Grich tied Adair's major league mark for fewest errors—5 (150 or more games)—also set in 1964.

Adair, however, retains exclusive hold on two other marks he set with the Birds in 1964-65: most consecutive chances accepted without error (458, 7/22/64 thru 5/6/65) and most consecutive errorless games (89, 7/22/64 thru 5/6/65).

O's major league records: The Orioles hold two significant major league records as a team, both set in 1964: (1) highest fielding percentage—.985 and (2) fewest errors, season—95. . . . At the same time the Birds also hold the modern major league record for most passed balls, season (49), set back in 1959 when Hoyt Wilhelm was an Orioles starter.

Triple plays: Despite two triple plays last year, the Orioles have only executed five during their 20 seasons in the American League while having been victimized with the same weapon ten times. Strangely enough, the last three triple plays pulled off by the Orioles have all been of the rare around-the-horn, ground ball variety, and all have been started by Brooks Robinson:

- 9/29/73—at Detroit . . . Frank Howard "gitp" . . . 5-4-3 (B. Robinson, B. Grich, T. Crowley).
- 7/ 7/73—vs. Oak. at Balto. . . . Gene Tenace "gitp" . . . 5-4-3 (B. Robinson, B. Grich, E. Cabell).
- 8/ 6/69—vs. K.C. at Balto. . . . Eliseo Rodriguez "gitp" . . . 5-4-3 (B. Robinson, D. Johnson, B. Powell).
- 4/ 9/59—at Wash. . . . Ed Fitzgerald line drive . . . 3-6-3 (B. Boyd, C. Carrasquel, B. Boyd).
- 8/ 3/55—vs. K.C. at Balto. . . . Art Ceccarelli "gidp" then runner was thrown out at home . . . 3-6-2 (G. Triandos, W. Miranda, H. Smith).

Elrod Hendricks was the last Oriole to hit into a triple play, in Boston on 5/25/72. Duane Josephson (1b) caught his line drive, stepped on first then threw to Luis Aparicio at second for the third out. . . . On four of the 10 occasions that Birds' opponents have executed triple plays, Brooks Robinson has been the batter. Brooks grounded into one, lined into another and two were "gidp's" with a runner then being thrown out between third and home.

Gold Gloves: See page 29.

STOLEN BASES

While setting a club record with a league leading figure of 146 stolen bases, the Orioles became the first club in history to have eight players with 10 or more steals in a single season: Don Baylor (32), Al Bumbry (23), Paul Blair (18), Richie Coggins and Bobby Grich (17 each), Mark Belanger (13), Tommy Davis and Merv Rettenmund (11 each).

Previously only one club had as many as seven base thieves in double figures during one season. That was the 1927 Detroit Tigers: Johnny Neun (22), Jackie Tavener (20), Charlie Gehringer (17), Jack Warner (15), Lu Blue (13), Heinie Manush (12) and Harry Heilmann (11).

BUNTS FOR BASE HITS

In 1973 the Orioles beat out 52 bunts for base hits including 14 by club leader Paul Blair. Al Bumbry and Mark Belanger had eight bunt base hits each; Don Baylor was credited with six; Tommy Davis, Richie Coggins and Bobby Grich had four apiece while Merv Rettenmund had two and both Andy Etchebarren and Sergio Robles, one apiece.

BIGGEST LIFETIME WINNERS vs. ORIOLES

Whitey Ford's recent election to the Baseball Hall of Fame came as no surprise to the Orioles. The former Yankee lefthander who retired after the 1967 season with a lifetime mark of 236-106 for 16 seasons still holds the distinction of having beaten the Orioles more often than any other pitcher, active or retired. Ford who was 30-16 vs. the Birds is followed by: Billy Pierce (23-11) and Mickey Lolich (23-14), Early Wynn and Frank Sullivan (21-8), Earl Wilson (20-9) and Camilo Pascual (20-23).

In addition to Lolich, other still active pitchers with high win totals against the Birds are: Jim Kaat (18-18), "Catfish" Hunter (17-14) and Jim Perry (17-20).

Pascual is the biggest all-time loser to the Orioles with 23 defeats. Others oft-beaten by the Birds are: Jim Perry (20), Sam McDowell (9-19), Bill Monbouquette (10-17), Dean Chance and Denny McLain (both 11-16), and Ford (16).

Lefthander Bud Daley enjoyed the most productive year ever against the Birds when he compiled a 6-1 record against them for Kansas City in 1959. Whitey Ford had back-to-back 5-2 seasons vs. the O's in 1959 and 1960, while Bob Lemon (Clev.) was 5-0 vs. Baltimore in 1956 and Mike Garcia (Clev.) was 5-1 in 1954.

Three pitchers have lost five times to the Orioles in a single season; all were 0-5: Ned Garver (K.C.), 1957; Dick Stigman (Minn.), 1963; and Stan Williams (Clev.), 1969.

1973 SEASON SUMMARY

During the glory years of 1969-71, when they won three straight American League pennants plus a world championship, the Orioles clouted their opponents into submission with a long-distance punch. In 1973, while winning the eastern division crown and missing the A.L. title by only one game, they did it more on speed than on power.

The other ingredients were there—base hits galore, superior defense and excellent pitching—but it was speed that made it a different club. The O's turned into thieves as they set a club record and led the American League with 146 stolen bases. No less than eight players stole at least 11 bases, paced by Don Baylor with 32.

The excitement generated by the club matched that of the pennant-winning years and heading the list of thrill-makers were a couple of first-year youngsters, Al Bumbry and Rich Coggins. Despite playing only against righthanders, they ran their way into the hearts of Orioles fans. The educated bat of Tommy Davis, the league's leading designated hitter, was also a significant factor in the Birds comeback effort.

Through April, the O's had a share of first place in the eastern division although they were unable to detach themselves from the others. The O's, after posting only a 10-12 record during May, went into June in fourth place, 3½ games behind Detroit. Over the following five weeks things picked up and by the Fourth of July the Orioles were second but still four games behind front-running New York, which had displaced Detroit. The O's whittled that Yankee lead down to 1½ games by the all-star break.

August 12 stands out as one of the most significant dates of the season, since it was on that day the O's started a 14-game winning streak—all against western clubs—which boosted them to the top of the eastern division for good, beginning August 15. The streak, longest in club history for a single season, lasted until August 28 and by that time the Os were five games ahead and headed for a final margin of eight over runner-up Boston.

It was a year for individual achievement and awards. Jim Palmer, a 22-game winner, received the Cy Young Award as the best pitcher in the league. Bumbry was named A.L. Rookie of the Year by The Sporting News and BBWAA, and there were four Gold Glove winners: Brooks Robinson (his 14th straight), Paul Blair, Mark Belanger and Bob Grich, who set an all-time major league record for second basemen as he committed only five errors while handling 945 total chances, a .995 percentage.

Lastly, but by no means the least important, one person received an award that many felt was long overdue—Earl Weaver was named A.L. Manager of the Year by the Associated Press, the first time he has been so honored.

1973 HIGHLIGHTS ORIOLES vs. OPPONENTS

BOSTON: The Orioles were 7-11 vs. the Red Sox, the only eastern division club that had a winning record against them . . . The O's were 4-5 at home and 3-6 at Fenway Park.

Glittering Debut: Jesse Jefferson, making his first major league start, beat the Red Sox, 2-1, in 10 innings in the nightcap of a June 23 twi-nighter at Fenway Park . . . Jefferson was one strike from victory when Rico Petrocelli hit a two-out, two-strike pitch into the left field screen in the 9th to send the game into overtime.

Big Hit: Orlando Cepeda, Boston's designated-hitter, sliced a line drive down the right field line and into the seats for a solo home run that John Curtis made stand up for a 1-0 Red Sox win at Fenway June 24 . . . Cepeda hit .404 (19-for-47) against the O's with nine rbi, one homer and two doubles.

Outburst: In one of their biggest hit productions of the year, the O's collected 17 hits en route to an 8-2 win behind Jefferson August 3 (second game) at Memorial Stadium . . . In one stretch Jefferson set down 17 Red Sox in succession.

The Longest Day: The two clubs split a day-night doubleheader September 3 at Fenway in which offense was featured both day and night . . . In the day game, won 13-8 by the O's, Paul Blair had two home runs and Earl Williams added another . . . One of Blair's was an inside-the-park with two runners aboard . . . In the nightcap, the Red Sox erupted for seven runs in the 8th to wipe out an 8-2 deficit and gain a 9-8 win.

Classy Duel: Luis Tiant and Jim Palmer matched pitches for 12 innings September 4 before Palmer made a mistake and Ben Oglivie hit it out for a home run that gave the Red Sox a 2-1 triumph at Fenway.

Blair's Efforts: The O's most potent batsman against the Red Sox was Paul Blair, who hit .397 (25-for-63) with five home runs and 13 rbi.

CALIFORNIA: The O's and Angels split the season series right down the middle, each winning three and losing three home and away.

Show of Stardom: In his first appearance against the Orioles, April 24 at Anaheim Stadium, Frank Robinson clouted a three-run homer that keyed a 6-5 comeback win for the Angels in 10 innings . . . The O's had a 5-0 lead into the 6th, when Robinson launched a 435-foot drive over the left field wall.

More Stardom: The O's presented Robinson with his Baltimore uniform jersey (No. 20) before the May 4 game at Memorial Stadium . . . The generosity didn't faze Robinson as he scored the game's only run in a 1-0 California victory.

Stunning Stanton: Outfielder Lee Stanton put on a rare show for Memorial Stadium folks July 10 when he hammered three home runs to lead the Angels to a wild 10-8 win . . . His third homer of the night was a two-run blow in the 10th that won the game . . . The O's were down, 8-3, but tied it with a five-run rally in the 9th . . . Stanton ranks with Cleveland's Rocky Colavito and Manny Jimenez of the A's as the only players ever to hit at least three homers in a game at Memorial Stadium . . . Colavito hit four in a game in 1959 and Jimenez got three in a game in 1964.

Spoiler: Nolan Ryan's attempt to throw back-to-back no-bitters was ruined by Mark Belanger with an 8th inning single July 19 at Anaheim Stadium and the O's ended up beating the flame-thrower, 3-1, in 11 frames . . . Ryan twirled a no-hitter against Detroit July 15 and had gone 16 straight innings without allowing a hit before Belanger popped a single to center to break the skein.

1973 HIGHLIGHTS

ORIOLES vs. OPPONENTS

CHICAGO: The Orioles won twice as many as they lost against the White Sox, finishing with an 8-4 record . . . The O's took five of six at Memorial Stadium and split (3-3) in Chicago.

Boomers: Richie Allen hit two booming home runs against the O's May 1 at White Sox Park, including one that landed atop the left field roof . . . Only 15 others had done that previously.

Big Frame: Seven runs were scored by the O's in the 8th inning of the June 6 game which topped off a 14-4 rout of the Sox.

Cap Night Caper: Crafty Mike Cuellar and Merv Rettenmund provided the thrills for a Cap Night crowd of 30,514 at Memorial Stadium August 18 in a 3-0 victory . . . Rettenmund unloaded a two-run homer in the 8th and Cuellar stopped the Sox on five hits.

Stan Bahnsen was 0-2 vs. the O's in '73 bringing his lifetime record against Baltimore to 1-14.

CLEVELAND: The Orioles went 12-6 vs. the Indians, winning five of nine at home and seven of nine in Cleveland . . . The two clubs met only three times prior to the all-star break, then played five doubleheaders over the last two months of the season . . . The O's won one and split the others.

Near-Gem: Jim Palmer fired a one-hitter against the Tribe in the first game of a doubleheader at Memorial Stadium July 27 . . . The only hit off him was a single by George Hendrick in the 8th . . . Palmer was 4-1 with a 1.67 era against Cleveland.

Ankle Injuries: Two of the O's three catchers suffered serious ankle injuries playing against the Indians . . . Earl Williams suffered a sprained left ankle May 18 and missed two weeks . . . Ellie Hendricks dislocated his left ankle sliding at the plate in the second game of a doubleheader September 9 and was sidelined the rest of the year.

Anxious Moment: Dave McNally got hit just above the left ear by a line drive off the bat of Chris Chambliss in the first game of a twin-nighter July 26 . . . He suffered abrasions of the ear and a hairline fracture of the jaw and missed one start.

Quick Exit: Managers Earl Weaver and Bob Aspromonte got the hook in a hurry in the nightcap of the July 26 twin-bill . . . Both were ejected in the first inning by umpire Bill Deegan.

Run Record: The Orioles set a club record for most runs in a game at Memorial Stadium when they trounced the Tribe, 18-4, in the second game of a September 28 twin-bill . . . Frank Baker hit a grand-slam home run, his first homer in the majors . . . Cleveland pitchers gave up 15 walks.

Happy Event: Curt Motton, a late-season addition to the club, hammered a home run with two on in the first inning to spark the O's to victory in the final game of the year . . . Motton, who did a great job for the O's as a pinch-hitter in the glory years of 1969-71, spent most of the season bouncing around the minors.

DETROIT: The O's and Tigers split their series for the year as the Orioles won four and lost five at home and did just the opposite at Tiger Stadium.

No-Hit Streak: O's pitchers hurled 13 innings of no-hit ball at the Tigers over a two-game spread early in the year . . . The O's helped the Tigers open their home season April 11 before 46,000 but spoiled the occasion with a 3-1 victory in 12 innings . . . Over the last eight frames the trio of Jim Palmer, Grant Jackson and Ed Watt held Detroit hitless . . . The next day, Dave McNally got into the 6th inning before giving up a hit—a triple by Ed Brinkman that rightfielder Merv Rettenmund lost in the sun . . . McNally then pitched three more innings without allowing a hit.

Overtime: The first three meetings of the season between the two clubs went extra innings . . . They played 12 innings April 11, 10 innings April 12 and 10 innings April 20 . . . The O's won all three.

Triple Killing: The Orioles turned in a triple play "around-the-horn" against the Tigers September 20 at Tiger Stadium . . . Frank Howard, long-time O's nemesis, was the victim . . . With runners on first and second, he hit a ground ball to third baseman Brooks Robinson who stepped on the bag, fired to second baseman Bob Grich for the second out and Grich's relay to first beat Howard.

Game Saver: John Hiller, who had four saves during the season against the O's, tied the major league record with his 37th on September 19 against the Orioles in Detroit.

KANSAS CITY: The Orioles won 8 and lost 4 against the Royals, achieving much more success at home than on the road . . . The O's were 5-1 against the Royals at Memorial Stadium but only 3-3 in K.C. . . . The Orioles now hold a 43-16 (.729) lifetime edge ('69 thru '73) over the Royals.

Timely Blow: A two-run homer by Earl Williams off Doug Bird in the last of the 9th gave the O's a 6-4 victory June 12 in Baltimore.

Rarely: Paul Blair hit an inside-the-park homer with the bases loaded against the Royals August 26 at Memorial Stadium . . . He cleaned and circled the bases after Amos Otis and Steve Hovley collided going after his drive to right-center . . . The K.C. pitcher was Paul Splittorff.

Big Inning: The Royals were rolling along with a 3-1 lead over the O's going into the 8th inning June 14 at Memorial Stadium . . . The O's quickly turned things around with a seven-run outburst to wind up 8-3 winners.

MILWAUKEE: The Orioles compiled their best record of the year against Milwaukee, taking 15 of 18 from the Brewers . . . The O's won eight of nine in Baltimore and seven of nine in Milwaukee . . . Since the Brewers started in Milwaukee in 1970, the O's have won 24 of 30 at County Stadium, an .800 percentage . . . Overall, the Birds are 50-19 (.725) vs. Milwaukee (nee Seattle).

1973 HIGHLIGHTS

ORIOLLES vs. OPPONENTS

Clincher: Doyle Alexander beat the Brewers, 7-1, in Milwaukee September 22 to enable the O's to wrap up the eastern division title.

Two-Day Game: A scheduled two-night doubleheader July 3 at Memorial Stadium took two days to complete . . . The first game was delayed because of rain and took three hours to play before the O's won it, 9-7, with six runs in the 8th . . . As a result, the second game was stopped after seven innings because of a midnight curfew with the Brewers in front, 4-1 . . . The game was resumed the next day and the O's tied it with three runs in the 8th and then won it, 6-4, on a two-run homer by Ellie Hendricks in the 10th . . . In the first game, Jim Palmer made his first relief appearance in more than four years (6/28/69) and earned a save, the first of his career.

One-Hit: Bill Parsons and Jerry Bell teamed up April 13 to hold the O's to one hit—a single by Paul Blair in the 7th.

Flashy Start: The O's opened their season April 6 at Memorial Stadium by downing the Brewers, 10-0, behind Dave McNally . . . Brooks Robinson belted two homers and Don Baylor had four hits—all for extra bases—while driving in three runs.

Ties Records: Al Bumbry tied a couple records during the year against the Brewers . . . He matched the club mark with five hits in the June 25 game and tied American League standard (in addition to setting a club record) with three triples in the September 22 clincher . . . He was the first A.L. player since Ben Chapman in 1939 to hit three triples in a game, and the first in the majors to accomplish the feat since Ernie Banks in 1966.

MINNESOTA: The O's went 8-4 vs. the Twins, posting 4-2 records at Memorial Stadium and Metropolitan Stadium.

Nifty Job: Bert Blyleven, the Twins' top hurler, spun a two-hitter while blanking the Orioles, 2-0, June 8.

Milestone: Brooks Robinson got career hit No. 2,500, a run-scoring single, against the Twins at Baltimore August 20.

Triple Comeback: In the three-game series at Baltimore August 20-22, the O's rallied to win all three after trailing in each one . . . They won the first game, 4-3, with a three-run 9th inning; the next night they pushed over a run in the 9th to win, 2-1, and in the third game they spotted the Twins three runs in the top of the first, tied it in the bottom of the first and scored the deciding run in the 5th for a 4-3 victory.

NEW YORK: The O's came away with a split for the year against the Yankees, posting a 5-4 record at Memorial Stadium and a 4-5 record at Yankee Stadium.

Sub Stars: Ellie Hendricks, whose name was not in the original line-up, nailed a two-run homer to help the O's beat the Yankees, 3-0, at Yankee Stadium May 11 . . . Earl Williams was supposed to catch but he was late arriving at the park because of a traffic jam . . . He had spent the day taking care of some National Guard business and Hendricks was a last-minute insertion in the line-up when Williams had not shown by game time . . . Williams arrived during the first inning.

Streak Extended: The Orioles beat Sam McDowell, 6-3, June 28 to gain their 7th straight win over him . . . He last beat the O's September 23, 1969, and is now 9-19 vs. Baltimore lifetime.

Streak Ended: Jim Palmer had a 10-game winning streak snapped when he lost to the Yankees, 5-2, August 31 . . . His last previous loss had been July 6 to Oakland.

Lots of Hits: There were 31 hits, 15 by the O's, in the September 1 game, won by the Orioles, 10-6.

Quickest: The Orioles played their fastest game of the year (1:39) in downing the Yanks 3-0 on September 16 (first game), as Palmer beat Fritz Peterson.

OAKLAND: The Orioles dropped the season series to the A's, seven games to five . . . The O's split in Oakland (3-3) but lost four of six in Baltimore.

Key Blow: A 12th inning home run by Angel Mangual beat the O's, 4-3, in Oakland April 27 . . . All runs in the game came as a result of home runs.

Big Turnout: The year's best crowd at Memorial Stadium, 42,180, saw the O's pull off a triple play but lose to the A's, 5-4, on July 7 . . . Gene Tenace hit into the triple killing, which went around-the-horn from Brooks Robinson to Bob Grich to Enos Cabell.

Great Start: Don Hood, in his major league debut, pitched four innings of runless ball in relief to win as the O's beat the A's, 7-5, before 43,571 Family Night fans in Oakland July 16.

Revenge: Tommy Davis, who led the A's in hitting in 1971 and then was released in spring training the following year, got a big measure of pleasure playing against the A's . . . He led O's hitters with a big .513 average, 20-for-39.

TEXAS: The Orioles won 10 of 12 from the Rangers, winning five of six home and away.

Streak Breakers: The Rangers ended two long streaks when they beat Dave McNally, 5-3, on August 28 . . . The loss was the first for McNally to the Rangers since September 12, 1968 after he had won 17 straight against them . . . The loss also ended a 14-game winning streak for the O's, longest in the club's history for one season.

Near Perfect: Jim Palmer claimed he did not feel well before going out to face the Rangers June 16 . . . All he did was retire the first 25 batters in a row before Ken Suarez singled to center with one out in the 9th to ruin Palmer's perfect game try . . . Palmer gave up another hit the same inning but won easily, 9-1.

Sandlot Style: The O's outlasted the Rangers, 12-10, at Arlington Stadium August 14 . . . There were 31 hits in the game, 17 by the O's, 12 walks and five errors . . . Don Baylor tied a club record with five hits.

Long Games: The O's and Rangers gave the fans something extra on a couple of occasions . . . The two clubs went 14 innings June 1 before the Rangers won, 4-3, and they played 16 innings June 17 before the O's won, 5-4, in a game that took 4:07 to play.

MOST VALUABLE ORIOLES: In 1973 Jim Palmer won his second straight "Most Valuable Oriole" Award, presented by the Sports Boosters of Maryland Inc. after a vote by the writers and announcers who cover the club on a regular basis. It was the fifth time in the club's 20 year history that a pitcher had been so honored, and the third time a player had won the honor twice in a row. Brooks Robinson has won the award more than any other. He was chosen outright three times and once shared the distinction with Frank Robinson.

The annual winners: Chuck Diering (1954), Dave Philley (1955), Bob Nieman (1956), Billy Gardner (1957), Gus Triandos (1958), Gene Woodling (1959), Brooks Robinson (1960), Jim Gentile (1961), Brooks Robinson (1962), Stu Miller (1963), Brooks Robinson (1964), Stu Miller (1965), Frank Robinson (1966), Frank Robinson (1967), Dave McNally (1968), Boog Powell (1969), Boog Powell (1970), Brooks Robinson and Frank Robinson (1971), Jim Palmer (1972) and Jim Palmer (1973).

Notes: The "Gold Glove" awards have been presented annually since 1957 by The Sporting News in cooperation with the Rawlings Sporting Goods Company to those players in each major league adjudged to be the best in their league at their respective defensive positions by vote of league managers and coaches. Selection is based not only on consistency (i.e. fielding percentage) but on overall ability and effectiveness.

Last year the Orioles earned four Gold Gloves for the third time in five seasons. Only two other clubs in the 17 year history of these awards have ever won as many as four in a season and none more than once: Chicago White Sox (1960) and St. Louis Cardinals (1963). The Orioles have accumulated 29 such awards (including 17 in five seasons from '69 thru '73), high for the American League and second in the majors only to the Cardinals who have won 30.

Brooks Robinson won his 14th straight Gold Glove last year, Paul Blair his sixth in seven years and fifth in a row, Mark Belanger his third and Bobby Grich his first.

ALL STAR GAME NOTES

Elected Starters: Selection of the starting teams (excepting pitchers) was returned to the fans in 1970 under the sponsorship of the Gillette Co. in cooperation with major league baseball. Following the ballot box "stuffing" incident in Cincinnati in 1957, selection of the starting teams had been entrusted to major league players for 12 years ('58 thru '69) . . . Following is a list of Orioles players elected to starting positions by fan vote:

1970—Frank Robinson (of), Boog Powell (1b)
1971—Brooks Robinson (3b),* Frank Robinson (of), Boog Powell (1b)†
1972—Brooks Robinson (3b)
1973—Brooks Robinson (3b)

* Received highest number of votes in A.L. (1,110,469).

† Did not play because of injury . . . Norm Cash replaced him.

Orioles MVPs: Three Orioles have won "mvp" honors in all star competition: Billy O'Dell (1958), Brooks Robinson (1966) and Frank Robinson (1971). O'Dell, the former Orioles lefthander who also pitched for the Giants, Braves and Pirates, hurled the last three innings of the only all star game ever played in Baltimore, and retired all nine batters he faced to protect a one-run lead, thus giving the A.L. a 4-3 win. . . . Brooks won the '66 Arch Ward Memorial Trophy on the strength of a 3-for-4 effort at bat (including a triple) and an 8-for-8 performance afield. He was the first player from a losing team to be so honored. . . . Frank's fourth inning home run at Detroit in '71 put the American League on top to stay and earned him "mvp" honors. It was the A.L.'s first all star victory since 1962.

Brooks Robinson: Brooks has now played in 17 consecutive all star games (including two games each in '60, '61, and '62) and has been a starter ten times, starting with both games in 1961 and including eight of the last 11 (beginning 1964). His lifetime average is .310 (13-for-42) with three triples, one home run and five rbi. He has also handled 43 chances (11 putouts, 32 assists) without error.

In addition to winning the "mvp" award in the 1966 all star game Brooks came close on two other occasions. In 1964 at Shea Stadium he went 2-for-4 with a two-run triple and made a sensational defensive play on an Orlando Cepeda smash, then in 1970 at Cincinnati went 2-for-3, hit another triple and drove in two runs.

Jim Palmer has pitched in three all star games ('70, '71, '72), started twice, worked a total of eight innings, and has not allowed a run while yielding only three hits, walking two and striking out eight. Ironically enough, in 1973, the year he won the Cy Young Award, he was not selected to the all star team.

The 1973 game: Last year in Kansas City's impressive new Royals Stadium, the National League won for the tenth time in the last 11 all star games and improved its overall record to 25-18-1 with a 7-1 victory. After spotting the A.L. a 1-0 lead in the second, the National League stars went ahead in the third to stay. Johnny Bench, Bobby Bonds and Willie Davis homered while Bonds also doubled and, though he was not in the starting lineup, was voted the Arch Ward Memorial Award.

SUSPENDED GAME RULE: A game terminated by curfew or by a pre-arranged time limit is a suspended game only if it has progressed far enough to be an official game (i.e. $4\frac{1}{2}$ to 5 innings).

A game terminated by light failure is a suspended game anytime after it begins.

Suspended games shall be resumed at the exact point of suspension immediately preceding the next scheduled single game between the two clubs on the same ground . . . If this is not possible, other provisions for resumption are specified in American League Regulation 3.8.

A game called at the END of a completed inning AFTER NINE INNINGS for any reason shall be a SUSPENDED game. This rule became effective in 1969. Formerly, the game would have been declared a tie and replayed in its entirety at a later date.

BALTIMORE CURFEW: Night Games—see A.L. Regulation 3.4 (13)—Saturday night—play must be called at 11:59 P.M. regardless of the game situation . . . All other nights—no inning may be started after 11:59 P.M., but any inning which begins before that time may be completed.

In other American League cities not governed by local curfews, no inning may start after 1:00 A.M., but any inning beginning prior to 1:00 A.M. may be played to completion.

BATTING/PITCHING (ERA) CHAMPION QUALIFICATION: more plate appearances/162 or more innings.

ROOKIE QUALIFICATIONS: A player shall be considered a rookie unless, during a previous season or seasons, he has (a) exceeded 130 at bats or 50 innings pitched in the major leagues; or (b) accumulated more than 45 days on the active roster of a major league club or clubs during the period of the 25-player limit (opening day thru Aug. 31) excluding time in military service.

NEW SAVE RULE (10:20): A relief pitcher can be credited with a save when—(1) in entering the game the potential tying run is either on base or at the plate and he preserves the lead, or (2) he pitches at least three effective innings and preserves the lead.

When more than one relief pitcher qualifies for a save under this rule, the save shall be credited to that relief pitcher judged by the official scorer to have been the most effective. It is not mandatory to credit a save. Only one save can be credited in any game.

DEFINITION OF NIGHT GAME: Any game scheduled to start after 6:00 P.M. (i.e. 6:01 P.M. or later) will be considered a night game. If a game is scheduled to start at 6:00 P.M. and is delayed by rain or for any other reason, it will be considered a day game.

However, both games of a two-night doubleheader shall be considered night games. When afternoon and night games are played on the same date and separate admissions are charged, they will be counted as one day and one night game, and will not be included in doubleheader statistics.

BITS ABOUT THE BIRDS

JAPAN TRIP '71: Three days after losing the '71 World Series to the Pirates in seven games, the Orioles embarked on a 31-day trip, spanning more than 20,000 miles, to play 18 games against the best baseball players in Japan. While traveling to 14 different cities via plane, train, bus, ferry and hydrofoil, the O's won 12 games, lost two and tied four before an estimated 450,000 fans.

The trip was sponsored by the Yomiuri Shimbun, one of the largest newspapers in the world and owners of the perennial Japanese champion Tokyo (Yomiuri) Giants.

The Orioles' principal opponents on the tour were the Giants, kingpins of the Central League, who had just won their seventh straight Japan Series (equivalent to our world series between pennant winners from Central and Pacific Leagues), and have since won their eighth and ninth in a row. The Giants have won 14 national championships since the present two league structure was adopted in '50 and have finished first in their league 28 times in the 38 years since professional baseball was inaugurated in Japan in '36.

In head to head competition, the Orioles did not lose to the Giants. The Birds won eight and tied three (all in extra innings) vs. Yomiuri. Against combination teams and all star groups, the O's were 4-2-1.

O's BIGGEST WINNERS FOR LAST 17 YEARS: It was in 1957 that the Orioles first began to jell as a team. That year they finished at .500 (76-76) for the first time after having gone 180-282 in their first three Baltimore seasons ('54, '55, '56). During the 17 years that have elapsed, from 1957 thru 1973, the Orioles have gone on to win more games than any other major league club, 1521-1183, .563.

They are followed in order by (figure in parenthesis indicates games behind): 2—Yankees, 1490-1220 (.34) . . . 3—Dodgers, 1477-1233 (.47) . . . 4—Giants, 1467-1242 (.56½) . . . 5—Reds, 1465-1239 (.56) . . . 6—Tigers, 1454-1261 (.72½) . . . 7—Cardinals, 1436-1270 (.86) . . . 8—Pirates, 1434-1272 (.88) . . . 9—Braves, 1428-1279 (.94½) . . . 10—White Sox, 1417-1297 (1.09) . . . 11—Twins (nee Senators), 1371-1338 (1.52½) . . . 12—Red Sox, 1346-1366 (1.79) . . . 13—Indians, 1304-1407 (2.20½) . . . 14—Cubs, 1272-1433 (2.49½) . . . 15—A's, 1261-1448 (2.62½) . . . 16—Phillies, 1239-1466 (2.82½).

O's BIGGEST WINNERS FOR LAST 14 YEARS: Perhaps a more significant starting point for the Orioles' emergence from a perennial also-ran to a consistent contender would be the 1960 season, the year the Orioles made their first bid for the pennant. On Labor Day eve that season, they held a two game lead over the Yankees and as late as September 15 were in a virtual tie with the Bombers. They ran out of gas at that point, but still finished second with an 89-65 record. It was the first time the O's had ever finished in the first division.

During the 14 years that have elapsed from 1960 thru 1973, the Birds have wound up in the first division 12 times and have won more games than any other club in either league. In fact, with a record of 1297-948 (.578), they have won 62 games more than their closest competitors, the Cincinnati Reds. Here are the records of the other clubs in this 14 year span (figure in parenthesis indicates games behind): 2—Reds, 1235-1007 (.60½) . . . 3—Giants, 1235-1012 (.63½) . . . 4—Dodgers, 1234-1012 (.64) . . . 5—Tigers, 1223-1030 (.78) . . . 6—Yankees, 1221-1027 (.77½) . . . 7—Pirates, 1210-1034 (.86½) . . . 8—Cardinals, 1206-1038 (.90½) . . . 9—Twins (nee Senators), 1192-1055 (.97) . . . 10—Braves, 1155-1088 (1.41) . . . 11—White Sox, 1151-1101 (1.49½) . . . 12—Red Sox, 1110-1140 (1.89½) . . . 13—Cubs, 1064-1179 (2.32) . . . 14—A's, 1063-1185 (2.35½) . . . 15—Indians, 1062-1189 (2.38) . . . 16—Phillies, 1029-1214 (2.67).

O's 20 YEAR RECORD 5th BEST IN MAJORS: Since the St. Louis Browns franchise was transferred to Baltimore in 1954, the Orioles have compiled the fifth best record in the majors and second best in the American League (1701-1465, .537). Here's how all 16 clubs that have been in existence during that whole period have fared in the past 20 seasons (figure in parenthesis denotes games behind leader): 1—Yankees, 1786-1386 . . . 2—Dodgers, 1760-1411 (.43½) . . . 3—Giants, 1711-1460 (.74½) . . . 4—Reds, 1705-1461 (.78) . . . 5—Orioles, 1701-1465 (.82) . . . 6—Braves, 1694-1475 (.90½) . . . 7—White Sox, 1687-1489 (1.01) . . . 8—Tigers, 1683-1494 (1.05½) . . . 9—Cardinals, 1652-1516 (1.32) . . . 10—Pirates, 1613-1555 (1.71) . . . 11—Indians, 1596-1577 (1.90½) . . . 12—Red Sox, 1583-1591 (2.04) . . . 13—Twins (nee Senators), 1549-1622 (2.39) . . . 14—Cubs, 1468-1698 (3.15) . . . 15—Phillies, 1462-1705 (3.21½) . . . 16—A's, 1427-1744 (3.58½).

BITS ABOUT THE BIRDS

100 WINS: The Orioles won more than 100 games in each of three straight seasons—'69 (109), '70 (108) and '71 (101). Only two other clubs have achieved this feat in the history of major league baseball: the '29-'30-'31 Philadelphia A's (104-102-107) and the '42-'43-'44 St. Louis Cardinals (106-105-105).

NUMBER "20" RETIRED: After Frank Robinson was traded to the Dodgers following the '71 season, his uniform number "20" was retired as an expression of respect and gratitude for his many achievements during six Baltimore seasons that produced four American League pennants and two world championships. Frank was the first Orioles player to be so honored. Following is a list (complete, we hope) of other baseball players and/or managers whose uniforms have been permanently retired:

American League: Boston (9-Ted Williams), Chicago (4-Luke Appling), Cleveland (5-Lou Boudreau and 19-Bob Feller), New York (3-Babe Ruth, 4-Lou Gehrig, 5-Joe DiMaggio, 7-Mickey Mantle, 8-Yogi Berra and Bill Dickey, and 37-Casey Stengel).

National League: Atlanta (21-Warren Spahn, and 41-Ed Mathews*), Cincinnati (1-Fred Hutchinson), Los Angeles (32-Sandy Koufax, 39-Roy Campanella and 42-Jackie Robinson), New York Mets (14-Gil Hodges and 37-Casey Stengel), Philadelphia (36-Robin Roberts), Pittsburgh (1-Bill Meyer, 20-Pie Traynor, 21-Roberto Clemente and 33-Honus Wagner), St. Louis (6-Stan Musial), San Francisco (4-Mel Ott, 11-Carl Hubbell and 24-Willie Mays).

* Mathews' number was re-activated when he returned to the Braves as a coach in '71 . . . Note that Stengel's #37 has been retired by both New York clubs . . . The Yankees' #8 was retired in 1972 in honor of its two most distinguished wearers.

WEAVER, WINNINGEST MANAGER: Among all big league managers since 1900 with at least five years experience, Earl Weaver ranks first in won-lost percentage:

EAST vs. WEST: Last year for the fourth time in five seasons the eastern division teams of the American League won more games than their western counterparts in inter-divisional play. The west held the edge in the first phase of competition between the divisions, but the east came back to win the next three and finished with a 226-206 advantage. The two clubs with the best inter-divisional records were the O's and the A's—both were 45-27.

Oakland's five game victory over the Birds in the ALCS gave the west its second American League title in five years, but the east still holds a 13-6 overall lead in ALCS games.

BIRDS' FIRST GAME IN BALTIMORE IN '54

The modern American League Orioles made their Baltimore debut in Memorial Stadium on April 15, 1954 before a crowd of 46,354 including Vice President Richard M. Nixon who threw out the first ball. Behind the seven hit pitching of Bob Turley who fanned nine, the Orioles of Jimmy Dykes defeated Paul Richards' White Sox, 3-1, in Baltimore's first American League game in 52 years.

Clint Courtney won the distinction of hitting the first home run in the brand new stadium (built on the site of the previous municipally owned ballpark used by the International League O's). It was a bases empty blast off Virgil Trucks who also yielded a solo homer to Vern Stephens in the fourth and was the losing pitcher. The Birds' starting lineup in that game was: Bobby Young, 2b; Eddie Waitkus, 1b; Gil Coan, cf; Vic Wertz, rf; Sam Mele, lf; Stephens, 3b; Billy Hunter, ss; Courtney, c and Turley, p.

SHRINE OF IMMORTALS

The Shrine, jointly sponsored by the Orioles and Maryland Professional Baseball Players Association, was created in 1960 to recognize men with Maryland backgrounds who have distinguished themselves in professional baseball . . . To qualify, a candidate must either be a native of Maryland or have been a player or official of the Orioles, International or American League, for a minimum of three years.

There are presently 19 members in the Shrine: Frank (Home Run) Baker, Jack Bentley, Max Bishop, Joe Boley, Jack Dunn Sr., Jimmy Foxx, Lefty Grove, Buck Herzog, Merwin Jacobson, Charlie Keller, Fritz Maisel, Bill Nicholson, Johnny Neun, Babe Phelps, Dick Porter, Jack Ogden, Eddie Rommel, Babe Ruth and Tommy Thomas.

ORIOLE ADVOCATES, INC.

The Oriole Advocates, Inc. is a unique non-profit corporation dedicated to promoting and stimulating interest in the game of baseball at both the amateur and professional levels. The organization, founded officially in July 1960, comprises 50 regular members and 12 associates drawn from a wide cross section of the business community.

Thru the years the Advocates have made substantial financial contributions primarily to youth organizations, and have played a major role in the restoration of Babe Ruth's birthplace on Emory Street. They have also become an essential arm of the Orioles public relations and promotions program. On "give away" days it is the Advocates who distribute the items to the fans, and it was they who originated "camera days" at Memorial Stadium. At virtually every Orioles promotion the Oriole Advocates are heavily involved.

Their biggest contribution of all, however, has been the formation and annual operation of the Junior Orioles program that began back in 1963 with 750 youngsters and has now grown to over 15,000 members every year. It is a massive undertaking, a "knothole" program with class, that requires a great deal of time and effort. There's an old saying that if you want something done well, ask a busy person to do it . . . The Oriole Advocates are a case in point.

MAGIC NUMBER

To calculate: Determine number of games to be played by first place club . . . Add 1 . . . Subtract the number of games first place club is ahead of second place club in the all-important lost column (A.L.C.). The result represents the magic number . . . Example: If first team has 20 games to play and is six games ahead of second team . . . $20 + 1 = 21$. . . $21 - 6 = 15$. . . 15 is the magic number.

When, in any combination, first team wins added to second team losses equal the magic number, first team has clinched the championship . . . From another angle—with each subsequent first team win or second team loss, the magic number is decreased by one . . . When the "M.N." is down to one, first team has clinched a tie, when it is reduced to zero, first team has won the title.

FINANCIAL STATEMENT

During the fiscal year ending October 31, 1973, the Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. realized a net profit of $45,521 (pre-tax profit was $85,190). This was made possible by income of approximately $350,000 derived from participation in the five game championship series with Oakland. Exclusive of championship series revenue, the club would have sustained a net loss of $264,810.

In 1972, the only year in the past five that the Orioles have not been involved in post-season play, the club suffered a net loss of $214,582 (reduced from $430,301 by a tax refund from prior years).

Profit or loss figures from other years:

*Includes operations of Baltimore Bays subsidiary; the baseball club alone would have earned approximately $332,000.

†Orioles/Bays sustained operating loss of $186,460, but expansion draft of six players @ $175,000 produced second largest net profit in club history.

‡Excluding losses of Bays, club would have earned profit of approximately $200,000.

The Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. is a publicly held Missouri based corporation. The Baltimore Orioles, Inc., a Maryland corporation, is a holding company which owns a 73.8% controlling interest in Baltimore Baseball Club, Inc. The National Brewing Company in turn owns nearly 68% of the common stock of Baltimore Orioles, Inc.

The major league draft is held annually at the opening session of baseball's winter meetings, and is followed with a separate selection by National Association clubs from class aaa to a levels . . . Until 1958 major league clubs could draft players within a range between $15,000 (for aaa players) down to $2,000 (for class d players) . . . In 1958 the price for big league drafts rose to $25,000. However, in 1959, a first year player draft at the big league level was set up to discourage the payment of inordinately large bonus payments to free agents. The new rule provided that first year players could be selected at the major league level (if not protected on a major league team's 40 man roster) for $12,000. In 1961 an even lower draft price was set up for more recent first year players. That figure was $8,000. That year, incidentally, the Baltimore organization set a record of sorts by being relieved of 19 eligible first year players (seven during the big league selections and 11 more during the minor league draft). In 1965 the first year player draft by major league clubs began to lose its significance as the result of tighter restrictions designed to limit wholesale raids on first year talent, and then disappeared in 1970.

The first ALCS game ever played ended in sensational fashion . . . With two out and Mark Belanger on third, Paul Blair, battling a 20-game slump and 0-for-4 on the day, dropped a perfect two strike bunt down the third base line . . . Belanger had scored and Blair had crossed first base before catcher John Roseboro picked up the ball . . . It was a completely unexpected ending to a game that had produced four home runs yet was decided by a base hit that traveled only 22 feet.

Boog Powell made it all possible with a lead off homer in the 9th off Jim Perry that tied the score 3-3.

The O's had jumped ahead twice earlier . . . Frank Robinson's 4th-inning homer off the left field foul pole made it 1-0, but a sacrifice fly by Bob Allison, following an Oliva double and an error by Frank, tied it in the 5th . . . Belanger's solo shot in the bottom of the 5th produced a 2-1 edge, but then Oliva hit a two run blast off Cuellar in the 7th to put the Twins up 3-2, which is where it stood until Powell tied it in the 9th.

Twenty game winners Dave McNally and Dave Boswell dominated the second game . . . McNally yielded only three hits while going the route and Boswell was brilliant in the clutch while yielding seven hits before Perranoski relieved him with two down in the 11th.

Curt Motton's lined shot to right off Perranoski just over leaping Rod Carew's glove scored Powell from second with the winning run, but only after Oliva's throw short hopped past Twins catcher Mitterwald just as Boog hustled by. Boswell had walked Powell to open the inning . . . Brooks sacrificed Boog to second, Johnson was purposely passed, then Belanger popped up for out number two. Manager Weaver sent up Hendricks to hit for Etchebarren but when Billy Martin brought in Perranoski, Earl countered with Motton.

McNally didn't yield a hit after the 4th inning. In the 10th he fanned the side to run his game total to 11. In the Twins 11th, however, after retiring the first two hitters, Dave suddenly walked both Killebrew and Oliva. But Dave got Allison on a fly ball and the Birds then went on to win in their half of the inning.

Back home in Metropolitan Stadium after losing two tough extra inning games in Baltimore, the Twins broke on top with a run in the 1st off Jim Palmer when Oliva doubled and later scored on a Rich Reese single . . . After that it was all Orioles, mostly Blair and Buford with an assist from Hendricks . . . Lead off man Buford was 4-for-5 with a walk, three runs and one rbi . . . Blair went 5-for-6 including two doubles and a home run, and drove in five runs while Hendricks, who put the Birds ahead to stay in the 2nd with a two run double, wound up with three rbi on two hits.

A pitchers duel between 24-game winners Mike Cuellar and Jim Perry never materialized amid a 23 mph wind and 57° temperature. With the score tied at two in the 4th inning Cuellar highlighted a seven run outburst with a wind blown grand slam that was unquestionably foul when it left the bat, then acquired distance and direction and curled around the foul pole in right. Don Buford followed immediately with another home run that kayoed Perry. Boog Powell wound up the scoring that inning with still another four bagger, off reliever Bill Zepp, to give the Birds a 9-2 lead.

But it wasn't Cuellar's day on the mound either. The Twins scored one in the home 4th, then rallied in the 5th for three more on a Killebrew homer (437') and a two run single by George Mitterwald. At this point with just one out, Manager Weaver summoned Dick Hall who forced second baseman Danny Thompson into an inning ending double-play grounder.

40-year-old Hall finished up allowing just one hit—a single by Tony Oliva—over a scoreless four and two-thirds inning stint. He fanned three and walked none.

In one of the closest 11-3 games ever played, the Birds and Dave McNally protected a one run lead (4-3) from the 4th thru the 8th then staged their second seven run inning in two days, in the 9th, to ice it.

The Orioles jumped out to a 4-0 lead after three and one-half innings . . . A 1st inning double by Powell, a two run homer by Frank Robinson in the 3rd and McNally's single in the 4th provided the early scoring off starter Tom Hall.

However, after McNally walked lead off man Leo Cardenas in the 4th, he yielded successive bombs to Killebrew and Oliva and with none out the Baltimore lead had been trimmed to one. McNally then retired the side in order and despite frequent trouble (Twins had at least one runner in each inning from the 5th thru the 9th) he blanked Minnesota the rest of the way.

In the 9th, Perranoski's year long success against the O's ended abruptly (credited with 34 saves and seven wins in the regular season overall, he was 2-0 with three saves while pitching 15 $\frac{1}{3}$ scoreless innings vs. Baltimore) . . . In the seven run 9th, he was blasted for five of the Orioles tallies. A two run double by Powell and Johnson's three run homer were the key blows in the big uprising.

Whereas the first two games of the ALCS seemed much closer than the final scores of 10-6 and 11-3, game three was rarely in doubt. Jim Palmer, who had now pitched complete game victories to clinch all three of the Orioles' American League titles ('66, '69 and '70), scattered seven hits and three walks while striking out 12.

The Birds started fast and by the end of three innings led 5-0.

Although it was a Monday afternoon, the third game crowd of 27,608 was better than either of the weekend crowds in Minnesota . . . The Orioles did not commit an error in the three games while the Twins were charged with six.

Vida Blue, the A's Cy Young Award winner and principal secret weapon, led 3-0 after three and one-half innings and was still ahead by 3-1 when the Birds erupted for four runs in the home 7th to win the first game of the 1971 ALCS in a come from behind thriller.

Curt Motton, who two years earlier had won game two of the ALCS against Minnesota with an 11th inning single, delivered a clutch two out double off Blue (batting for McNally in the 7th) that tied the game, then Paul Blair followed with another two base hit that drove in both the winning run and an insurance tally.

Blue had only one bad inning thru the first six. That was in the 4th when he allowed three hits (the only safeties the Birds had until the 7th) and two of these, back to back doubles by Dave Johnson and Merv Rettenmund, produced the O's first run. In only one other inning thru the 6th did he even allow a base runner.

When the Orioles won league titles in 1966 and again in 1969 and 1970, it was Jim Palmer who went the route to win the clincher. In 1971 it was the same old story.

Though three Oakland homers, two by Reggie Jackson, kept the A's in the ballgame until the end, Palmer turned on the gas in the 9th and fanned the side in order (Tenace, Hegan, Blefary) to nail down Baltimore's fourth pennant in six years.

A's Manager Dick Williams chose Diego Segui to start game three. His two aces, Vida Blue and Jim Hunter had already pitched, and 15-game winner Chuck Dobson was unavailable because of injury. Segui loaded the bases in the very 1st inning but held the O's to a single run on a sacrifice fly by Ellie Hendricks.

Jackson's first home run tied the game at one-all in the 3rd. Then in the 5th Brooks Robinson's two run single with the bases loaded put the O's ahead to stay and Segui shortly departed. Bando's homer in the 6th cut the lead to one (3-2), but the O's scored twice more in the 7th on an rbi double by Frank Robinson and another on a Darold Knowles wild pitch and now led 5-2.

It was, of course, the third straight three game sweep of the ALCS by the Orioles since that annual event was inaugurated in 1969.

Jim Palmer struck out 12 Oakland batters and the Orioles scored more than enough to win in the very first inning with a four run uprising off Vida Blue who yielded four hits and two walks and was removed after retiring only two batters. The big blows in the inning were a run scoring double by Tommy Davis, a two run single by Earl Williams, and Mark Belanger's rbi single.

Oakland's principal threat also came in the opening inning, compliments of Palmer's wildness . . . Jim walked Bert Campaneris and Joe Rudi, the first two batters, then came back to fan Sal Bando, Reggie Jackson and Deron Johnson in order to retire the side. It was Palmer's fourth career ALCS victory without a defeat.

Four Oakland home runs off Dave McNally and clutch pitching by "Catfish" Hunter and Rollie Fingers tied the series at one game apiece. Sal Bando hit two of those homers, accounting for three rbi, and was deprived of a third when Al Bumbry made a fine leaping catch of a Bando drive in left in the 3rd inning.

Bert Campaneris led off the game with a home run, but in the Baltimore half of the inning, Tommy Davis evened the score with a run producing single. The game remained deadlocked until Joe Rudi and Bando connected in order in the 6th, but Earl Williams drove home a run in the home half of the inning to reduce the deficit to 3-2. However, Bando's two run smash in the 8th put the A's out of reach although the Birds did accumulate three hits and a walk later in that inning to score their final run. Campaneris picked up another rbi with a 9th inning single.

Following a day's postponement because of rain in Oakland, Mike Cuellar pitched one of the finest games of his career while scattering three hits and striking out 11 over 10 innings. However, Campy Campaneris who hit only four home runs in 151 regular season games, hit his second of the playoffs leading off the 11th to make a loser of Cuellar and put the A's ahead in the series two games to one.

The Birds had drawn first blood on Earl Williams' solo homer in the second, then Cuellar protected that slim lead for six innings until Matty Alou and Joe Rudi produced a pair of looping singles sandwiched around a sacrifice and a strikeout to tie the game in the 8th. Meanwhile, Ken Holtzman, who fanned seven, matched Cuellar pitch for pitch and wound up with a three-hitter.

Andy Etchebarren hit the biggest home run of his career and so did Bobby Grich as the Orioles bounced back from a 4-0 deficit and the prospect of certain elimination with five late inning runs to tie the ALCS at two games apiece.

Jim Palmer started against Vida Blue for the second time, but didn't get past the second inning when the A's put together four hits including three doubles to score three times and drive Palmer to the showers with only one out. Bob Reynolds came on to pitch effectively thru the sixth inning although yielding a single run in the 6th that gave the A's a seemingly insurmountable lead.

Meanwhile, Blue was breezing thru the first six innings allowing only two hits and no runs. Then in the 7th the tide began to turn with one out. Earl Williams walked, Don Baylor singled and Brooks Robinson followed with another single that plated the Birds first run. Then Etchebarren stepped up and smacked a Blue offering over the left field fence providing an instant deadlock at 4-4. That blow finished Blue in favor of reliever Rollie Fingers who retired the side without further damage.

However, Grich hit one out off Fingers leading off the 8th to put the Birds on top to stay. It remained for Grant Jackson, who had entered the game in the bottom of the 7th, to get the A's out in the 8th and 9th, a chore he performed with great efficiency.

Though he did not get the loss this day (that distinction belonged to Fingers), it was the third time that Blue had started against the O's in ALCS competition (including 1971) and the third time his team had lost.

"Catfish" Hunter scattered five hits and walked only two in pitching the A's to their second straight American League Championship. The 27-year old righthander, 21-5 during the regular season, thus picked up two of Oakland's three playoff victories and, despite a yield of 39 home runs in the 1973 campaign, yielded none to the Birds in 16.1 innings of post-season pitching.

The Orioles put eight men on base during the afternoon but never more than one an inning and none advanced as far as third base. The A's broke the scoring ice in the third with a single run, the product of a Brooks Robinson error, a sacrifice and a Joe Rudi single. In the following inning, Vic Davalillo tripled just beyond Richie Coggins' grasp in right to drive in the second run and then scored the final Oakland tally on a single by Matty Alou. At that point Jim Palmer came on for the third time in the series, relieving Doyle Alexander, and pitched shutout ball over the last 4.1 innings. Unfortunately, so did the "Catfish."

A brilliant relief pitching effort by Moe Drabowsky and 1st inning home runs by Frank and Brooks Robinson carried the Orioles to victory at Dodger Stadium. With one out in the 1st, Dodger starter Don Drysdale walked Russ Snyder and Frank immediately followed with a home run to left. Brooks Robinson was the next batter and he also homered to give the Orioles a quick 3-0 lead . . . Snyder singled another run across in the 2nd . . . The Birds' Dave McNally, working on a 4-1 lead after a 2nd inning homer by Jim Lefebvre, lost control and loaded the bases on walks with one out in the 3rd.

Drabowsky came on at that point and, after a strikeout, walked Junior Gilliam to force in the Dodgers second run of the game (and last of the series). Working the final six and two-third innings, Moe yielded just one hit and set a series record by fanning 11. He tied another record with six straight strikeouts in the 5th and 6th innings.

Jim Palmer, nine days short of his 21st birthday, became the youngest pitcher in World Series history to toss a shutout as the Orioles moved two up in the Series. A shoddy Dodger defense that committed six errors (including three in one inning by center fielder Willie Davis) aided the Oriole victory, but the day belonged to Palmer. The strong armed right-hander struck out six and walked three as he stopped the Dodgers cold. The Orioles broke a scoreless deadlock in the 5th inning with three tallies, mainly because Davis dropped two fly balls and was charged with a throwing error. The Orioles added another run in the 6th and two more in the 8th to wrap up the game. The losing pitcher was the incomparable Sandy Koufax, appearing in his final game with the Dodgers. Dave Johnson, with a 6th inning single, earned the distinction of getting the final hit off Koufax.

The Orioles extended their series lead to three games as Paul Blair and Wally Bunker teamed up to give the Orioles the win. Blair belted a 430-foot home run to left-center in the 5th inning to account for the game's only run while Bunker, bothered much of the year by a sore right elbow, fanned six and walked only one. Fine defensive plays by left fielder Curt Blefary and shortstop Luis Aparicio eased Bunker's path to victory. Dodger southpaw Claude Osteen, who suffered the loss, pitched very well as he gave up just three hits and a walk in the seven innings he worked.

The Orioles became World Champions by defeating the Dodgers in four straight as Dave McNally's arm and Frank Robinson's bat brought the series to an end. McNally, who started the first game and failed to last through the 3rd inning, was brilliant as he retired the Dodgers in order in seven of the nine frames. Robinson, who homered in the 1st inning of the first game off Don Drysdale, did it again in this game when he unloaded a 4th inning shot deep into the left field seats. The blow not only won the game but earned him the series mvp award. McNally's pitching stretched to 33 the number of consecutive innings in which the Dodgers were held scoreless. Two great plays by the center fielders highlighted the defensive phase of the game. In the 4th frame, Willie Davis leaped high against the center field fence and snared a drive off Boog Powell's bat that was over the top of the barrier. In the 8th inning, Blair, who entered the game as a defensive replacement at the start of the inning, ran to the fence in left-center and jumped to make a great catch on a ball hit by Jim Lefebvre that appeared to be a home run.

The Orioles' first hitter of the game, Don Buford, put the Birds ahead 1-0 with a home run off Tom Seaver. In the 4th inning the Orioles scored three more to pad their lead 4-0 . . . After that the Birds had only one baserunner, on a walk by Ron Taylor in the 7th . . . Cuellar, meanwhile, yielded only two hits and two walks thru the first six innings.

In the 7th the Mets mustered their only major threat, loading the bases with one out . . . Al Weis followed with a sacrifice fly scoring Donn Clendenon. Then pinch hitter Rod Gaspar trickled a bounce to third . . . Brooks rushed in and made a fine barehanded pick up and throw to nip Gaspar at first and end the inning. Cuellar yielded a single in the 8th and a hit and a walk in the 9th but finished up without further trouble.

Lefthander Jerry Koosman held the Orioles hitless thru the first six innings, allowing just one runner (a walk to Johnson) . . . In the meantime Clendenon's 4th-inning homer off McNally had staked him to a 1-0 lead.

In the 7th, the Birds tied it after Paul Blair led off with a single to break Koosman's string, stole second, then scored two outs later on Brooks' safety . . . A good stop by third baseman Ed Charles on Johnson's shot into the hole stopped the Birds' rally.

McNally, who had allowed just three hits in eight innings, retired the first two hitters in the 9th, but then Charles, Jerry Grote and Weis singled in succession to put the Mets up 2-1 . . . In the bottom half, Koosman, with two out, walked Frank and Powell, but Taylor then came on and got Brooks on a game ending grounder.

This was Tommy Agee's day . . . The Mets' center fielder homered leading off for the Mets in the 1st inning, then made two great catches that deprived the Orioles of at least five runs . . . With the Mets ahead 3-0 in the 4th the Birds had runners on first and third with two out when Hendricks slashed a drive to deep left-center, seemingly good for at least two bases and two rbi, but Agee reached the ball at the last instant and made a great backhanded catch after a long run to the fence.

In the 7th the Mets led 4-0, when, after two were out, Gary Gentry walked the bases loaded and was pulled in favor of Nolan Ryan. Blair with a two strike count sent a drive into right-center that figured to clear the bases, but Agee reached it after another long run, caught it low, then slid across the grass on his belly. The Birds loaded the bases in the 9th also, but Ryan fanned Blair to end it.

Plate umpire Shag Crawford made history of sorts in game four and so did Ron Swoboda . . . The Mets led 1-0 on Clendenon's second series homer at the start of the 3rd when Crawford strode toward the Orioles' dugout and pointed a menacing finger . . . Manager Weaver then walked to the plate as Crawford returned to his position, and at that point the latter thumbed him out of the game . . . It was only the third time in series history that a manager had been ejected, and the first such incident since 1935.

Swoboda's magnificent contribution to world series lore occurred, ironically, on the play that enabled the Birds to score their only run of the game. Seaver had held the O's to three hits over eight innings and still led 1-0 into the 9th. With one out, however, Frank singled and went to third on Boog's safety to right. Brooks then lined a shot to right that appeared headed into the slot. At very worst the Birds figured to tie it up with runners on second and third, but Swoboda made a miraculous headlong backhanded diving catch inches off the grass that must rank with the great series plays of all time . . . Frank scored from third on the sacrifice fly, but that was all the scoring the Birds could muster.

Ed Watt who came on in the 8th yielded two hits in the 9th but worked out of the jam forcing the game into extra innings . . . The O's threatened but didn't score in the 10th . . . In the home half, Dick Hall yielded a lead off double to Grote . . . Weis was intentionally passed and Pete Richert came on to face J. C. Martin, batting for Seaver . . . Martin dropped a bunt down the first base line; Richert fielded it but his throw hit Martin in the back and rolled into right field, allowing Gaspar (running for Grote) to score the winning run from second. Subsequent photos showed that Martin was running out of the three foot lane during that last 45-foot stretch to first when the ball hit him, but umpire Crawford did not see it that way.

In the 6th, the O's still led 3-0 when Frank appeared to have been hit with a pitch, but plate umpire Lou DiMuro ruled that the ball had hit Frank's bat first . . . A substantial argument followed . . . In the bottom of the same inning, Cleon Jones claimed to have been hit on the foot by McNally. DiMuro again said no, but moments later Gil Hodges ran out of the dugout with a ball bearing a shoe polish stain. DiMuro relented and sent Jones to first (movies later vindicated DiMuro's judgment on the Jones incident) . . . When Clendenon followed with his third homer of the series, the score was 3-2.

Light hitting Weis then hit his first homer ever in Shea Stadium to tie the score in the 7th . . . The Mets won it all in the 8th . . . With Watt pitching, Jones opened the inning with a double and one out later scored the ultimate winning run on Swoboda's two baser . . . The Mets then scored an insurance run with two out on errors by Powell and Watt.

In game one the Reds established a pattern they followed in four of the five games . . . taking the early lead . . . With Palmer on the hill for Baltimore, the Reds scored once in the 1st on Johnny Bench's two out single . . . The lead ballooned to 3-0 on Lee May's 3rd inning home run. Meanwhile, Gary Nolan set the O's down in order in the first three innings.

However, Boog Powell homered deep into the left field stands in the 4th following a Paul Blair single to reduce the home team's advantage to one. Then Ellie Hendricks reduced it to zero with a game tying swat to right to lead off inning 5.

Perhaps the most exciting and significant inning of the entire World Series was the Cincinnati 6th . . . First, Lee May, who had homered and singled off Palmer earlier, led off by rifling a ground shot one hop over the bag at third bound for extra bases; but Brooks made a miraculous stop and while his momentum carried him into foul territory, he somehow stopped and threw almost blindly to first without really turning his body. His throw took a perfect astro turf hop right into the stretching Powell's glove and nailed May by a step. The importance of the play soon became apparent.

Palmer then walked Bernie Carbo and gave up a single to Tommy Helms that sent Carbo to third. Ty Cline came in to hit for shortstop Woody Woodward, but succeeded only in hitting a dribbler that bounced high in front of the plate . . . Hendricks stepped out to grab it. Umpire Ken Burkhart also went out to position himself to call it fair or foul and surprise, surprise, Carbo was coming from third . . . Carbo came in on the foul side of the line, Hendricks dove at him from the fair side and both made contact with Burkhart, who ended up sitting down with his back to the plate. There was no question that Hendricks tagged the runner with his gloved hand, but the ball was in the other and subsequent photos and film proved that Carbo didn't touch the plate on the way in . . . Burkhart called the runner out. A vehement argument ensued.

The score was still tied at three when Brooks hit a 7th inning home run off Nolan and that was to be the clincher . . . In the 9th Palmer fanned pinch hitters Jimmy Stewart and Angel Bravo to open the inning, his first two strikeouts of the game . . . However, he then lost Rose on a walk, and Earl Weaver went to Richert to pitch to Tolan . . . It took Pete one pitch to dispose of the Reds center fielder on a soft liner to Mark Belanger and the Birds led the series 1-0.

The Reds jumped away with three unearned runs in the 1st off Mike Cuellar.

In the 3rd, Tolan homered to make it 4-0. After Cuellar walked Johnny Bench, Tom Phoebus replaced him and faced May who bid for another hit with a smash to the hole but Brooks fell to his knees, came up with the screamer, whirled quickly in a clockwise turn and started a brilliant double play to end the Reds threat.

The Orioles got one back on Powell's second series homer in the 4th, then took command in the 5th . . . They scored five times on six hits while sending nine men to the plate . . . The big blows were Brooks' game tying single and Ellie Hendricks' two run double down the left field line that put the O's ahead to stay.

Bench led off with a homer in the 6th to narrow the Orioles lead to one . . . In the 7th Marcelino Lopez came on to face lefty Tolan with the tying and lead runs on and got him on a pop to Brooks. Then Hall was summoned and he retired the side on Perez's force out grounder.

Hall, a hero in the first game of the playoffs, played the role again here. He put down Cincinnati in order in both the 8th and 9th to preserve the 6-5 win, but again Blair, who had made a sensational catch on Brant Alyea's long drive in the championship for a key out with Hall on the mound, contributed his golden defensive skills . . . Pinch hitter Stewart with two down in the 9th hit a drive with unaccustomed power (one homer in regular season), Blair raced to the center field fence with his back to the plate and hauled it in over his shoulder.

Brooks got the O's off on the right track in the 1st when he doubled over two runs against starter Tony Cloninger . . . Frank, who had been 0-for-9 in the series until he singled first time up in this game, came back in the 3rd with a solo homer and Buford also contributed a bases empty shot in the 5th . . . Cloninger left after five and one-third innings charged with six hits and five runs.

Brooks, aside from two doubles and two rbi, also contributed a sparkling diving grab to his left of a Johnny Bench liner in the 6th. Dave Johnson in the 3rd likewise robbed Rose of a single with a diving backhand catch of a sharp line drive . . . Frank and Blair each added three hits and an rbi.

With the Reds trailing 5-3 and just two innings from total annihilation in four straight, Lee May blasted reliever Eddie Watt's first pitch into the left field seats with two aboard to give the "BRM" their only series win, 6-5.

The Reds scored first in the 2nd on Dave Concepcion's triple, but Brooks countered with a lead off homer, the first of four hits for him that day, in the bottom of the same frame.

Lee May singled home another run in the 3rd, but again the O's counter attacked, this time with three runs, giving the Birds a 4-2 lead.

Rose's 5th inning homer reduced the margin to one, but the Cincinnati hustler's fumble of Hendricks' 6th inning single allowed Brooks to cross with Baltimore run number five.

Palmer, who had retired eight of the next nine hitters following Rose's homer, suddenly weakened in the 8th . . . He opened with a walk to Perez, then gave up a single to Bench, and at that point Watt entered and yielded the first pitch blast by May.

It was a wet and gloomy day in Baltimore, particularly after the Reds jumped Cuellar for three runs and four hits (including three doubles) in the top of the 1st. But the day belonged to the Orioles, weather or no.

In the bottom of the opening inning Blair singled, the first of his three hits that made him the series' top hitter at .474, then Frank followed with a home run . . . score 2-3 . . . In the 2nd the tide turned completely. With two out and two on, 20-game winner Jim Merritt exited in favor of Granger. Belanger greeted him with a base hit that scored the tying run and Blair came right behind with another single that drove in the ultimate clincher.

Cuellar, after McRae had doubled in two runs to give the Reds their early 3-0 lead, pitched near perfect baseball . . . He retired 24 of the last 27 hitters and was never again in serious trouble.

The top of the 9th provided a fitting climax to the Brooks Robinson story. Bench, the first man to bat, lined a shot just foul of third base but not too foul for Brooks to grab it with a hearty lunge. Then after Cuellar fanned May, pinch hitter Pat Corrales (the only player who had not seen action for Cincinnati in the series) sent a routine bouncer to third and Brooks threw easily to Powell for all the marbles.

The Orioles fell behind early when Dave McNally's wildness plus a couple of throwing errors and an rbi single by Dave Cash netted the National Leaguers three unearned runs in the 2nd.

However, a solo home run by Frank Robinson in the bottom of inning 2, followed by Merv Rettenmund's three run blast (both off starter and loser Dock Ellis) in the 3rd after singles by Belanger and Don Buford, put the O's ahead to stay. Buford added an insurance tally in the 5th with the Birds' third home run, this one off Bob Moose.

McNally continued to struggle into the 3rd but then retired 19 straight and 21 of the last 22 hitters he faced. For McNally who registered a season high total of nine strikeouts it was victory number 16 in his last 17 decisions.

After being rained out in Memorial Stadium on Sunday, the series continued on Monday afternoon (14 regular season games plus the first game of the championship series against Oakland had earlier been victimized by weather).

While the O's scored all their runs on homers in game one, this day they hit nothing but singles, 14 of them, and aided by seven walks and an error scored 10 times in the middle three innings to take an 11-0 lead. Brooks Robinson with three hits and two walks tied a world series record for reaching base while driving in three runs and contributing a typical defensive gem—a diving stop of Manny Sanguillen's lead off grounder in the 8th, followed by a strike to Boog Powell to nip the fleet Pirate catcher at first.

Merv Rettenmund also tied a series mark with two hits in one inning, the six run 5th, and Jim Palmer picked up two rbi with a pair of bases loaded walks. Bob Johnson, the first of six Pirate hurlers, was the loser.

Palmer, who yielded seven hits and eight walks, and threw 168 pitches, came out after eight innings. Richie Hebner's three run homer in the 8th cost Palmer his shutout—Jim struck out 10. Dick Hall picked up a save with a scoreless 9th.

Steve Blass, who held the Orioles hitless until Brooks Robinson singled in the 5th, limited the Birds to one run and three hits while the Pirates picked up single runs in the 1st and 6th, then added three more off Cuellar on Bob Robertson's homer in the 7th with two runners and the bunt sign on.

The Orioles' only run scored on Frank Robinson's 7th inning homer that brought the Birds to within one run (2-1), but Robertson's smash in the next half inning put the game out of reach.

Frank with two hits and Brooks with one were the only Orioles to hit safely against Blass who walked only two and fanned eight.

The first world series night game ever played (after 397 day games) drew a record baseball crowd for Pittsburgh and the largest TV audience ever for a baseball event, an estimated 62,330,000.

The game, itself, was decided by a pair of 21-year old Pirates: Bruce Kison and Milt May. Kison, who relieved starter Luke Walker in the 1st with the Birds already ahead 3-0, proceeded to pitch six and one-third scoreless innings during which he allowed just one hit and no walks though he did set a series record by plunking three Baltimore batters with pitched balls.

The Pirates battled back to tie the game in the 3rd off Pat Dobson who had not worked in 15 days, and in the 7th, young May, batting for Kison with two on and two out, singled home Bob Robertson with the tie breaking (and winning) run. Premier reliever Dave Giusti then retired six straight Orioles over the last two innings to preserve the narrow margin.

Dobson left with one out in the 6th after yielding 10 hits and three walks, but Grant Jackson bailed the Birds out of a tough spot. Watt came on in the 7th and was the victim of singles by Robertson and Sanguillen that preceded May's winning safety.

The most controversial play of the series occurred in the 3rd inning when Clemente, batting with one out and Richie Hebner on first, lined a shot to right field that cleared the inside fence near the foul line. Umpire John Rice who was covering the right field line in this game ruled that it was a foul ball, but to many it appeared to have been fair. After the argument cooled, Clemente singled putting Hebner in position to score the tying run on Oliver's subsequent single. Later testimony by fans in the disputed home run area as well as by members of the Pirate bullpen confirmed the accuracy of Rice's call.

Nelson Briles, pitching for the first time in two weeks, set the O's down with two hits—a 2nd inning single by Brooks and a 7th inning safety by Boog Powell—as the Birds' scoreless string was extended to 17 innings (in fact, the Birds had only two hits in their last 16 frames).

Bob Robertson's 2nd inning lead off homer was enough, but the Pirates scored four times in all off Dave McNally who yielded seven hits in the four innings he worked.

Frank Robinson's aching legs produced the winning run in the 10th inning to prevent elimination and tie the series at three games apiece. With Bob Miller, the Pirates fourth pitcher, on the mound, Frank drew a walk with one out. Suffering from a painful Achilles tendon injury in his right foot, Frank nevertheless streaked all the way from first to third on Rettenmund's ground single up the middle. Vic Davalillo's throw to third baseman Hebner might have been in time, but Frank dove to the outside of the bag and evaded the tag. Enroute, he pulled a muscle in his left thigh.

Then Brooks hit a 1-2 pitch to medium center. After the catch by Davalillo, Frank came home and slid over safely as Davalillo's two bounce throw hopped high forcing Manny Sanguillen to go up in the air after it.

This dramatic finish concluded an uphill battle for the Birds in this "must" game. Robertson's 2nd inning single following an Al Oliver double and Roberto Clemente's homer in the 3rd gave the Pirates an early 2-0 lead off Jim Palmer.

Buford hit a solo homer in the 6th to put the Birds on the board. Then the O's tied in the 7th when Dave Johnson singled off Giusti to score Belanger. Thru five innings of this game, the Birds had not scored in 22 straight innings.

Palmer, meanwhile, had settled down and pitched shutout ball from the 4th thru the 9th. He was pitching so effectively that manager Weaver declined to pinch hit for him in two threat situations in the 4th and 7th innings.

The Orioles threatened off Giusti in the 9th but didn't score. Dobson came on to pitch the 10th and with one out Cash singled and stole second while Richie Hebner fanned. The O's walked Clemente on purpose, then Dave McNally, who had started the fifth game, came out of the bullpen to make his first relief appearance since July 19, 1969, to face the left-hand hitting Willie Stargell. Dave walked the major league's home run champion, but got Al Oliver, also a southpaw, to fly out to center to end the inning and set the stage for Frank's base running heroics.

While Steve Blass went the route limiting the Orioles to four hits and a single run, Mike Cuellar pitched almost as well. Thru the eight innings Mike worked, he too yielded just four base hits, but a home run by Roberto Clemente in the 4th after Cuellar had retired all 11 previous Pittsburgh hitters broke the ice, and then in the 8th, a single by Willie Stargell, followed by Pagan's hit and run double that scored Stargell all the way from first, gave the Pirates a 2-0 lead.

In the first seven innings, the Birds nipped Blass for two harmless safeties. In the home half of the 8th, down by two, the Birds finally scored. Hendricks opened with a single thru shortstop then Belanger looped a single to center. With none out Tom Shopay batted for Cuellar and sacrificed the runners to second and third. When Buford bounced to Bob Robertson at first, Hendricks scored. But with the tying run on third, Blass retired Dave Johnson to end the inning.

Blass was up to the final challenge in the 9th and set down Boog Powell, Frank Robinson, and Merv Rettenmund in order to give Pittsburgh its fourth world championship in six world series. All four Pirate series wins have been in seven games.

*Contract selected for $12,000 in major league draft (first year player rule) from Syracuse roster (Mets) on 11/26/62.

Born in Cushing, Okla., but was raised in Los Angeles and now makes his home in Baltimore.

1973 Season: Showed marked improvement at the plate over his 1972 performance . . . He was fourth on club in rbi, third in runs, second in doubles and fifth in hitting . . . Hit .532 (25-for-47) over 12 game stretch between June 9 and June 28 . . . That hot streak enabled him to hit .394 for month of June (37-for-94) . . . Attributes some of his plate improvement to June 15 session of therapeutic hypnotic treatment administered by Dr. Jacob Conn in Baltimore . . . However, it must be pointed out that Blair was already on a .348 tear (16-for-46) during the 15 games he played prior to his appointment with Dr. Conn. He was hitting only .218 on May 28 then raised his average 107 points to a season high of .325 by June 28. He kept his average over .300 until August 4.

Batted .312 against eastern division clubs . . . Hit .396 vs. Boston with five homers and 13 rbi . . . Beat out 14 bunts for base hits . . . Had six rbi at Fenway Park in September 3 game when he hit two three-run home runs, one of them inside the park . . . Had hit an inside-the-park homer with the bases loaded just one week earlier (August 26) in Baltimore off Kansas City's Paul Splittorff. The other three-run blast in that September 3 game in Boston was hit off Ken Tatum, the pitcher who had hit him in the face with a pitch while with the Angels in a game at Anaheim in May 1970. Paul suffered serious eye and facial injuries, and was on the disabled list for three weeks after that beaming.

His defensive play did not need any therapeutic treatment . . . He was the only unanimous choice on The Sporting News' American League all star fielding team . . . It was his fifth straight "Gold Glove" award and sixth in last seven years. In the poll, taken among A.L. managers and coaches, he was named on 44 of 49 ballots . . . The five votes he did not get were those of the O's staff, who were not eligible to vote for him . . . Stole 18 bases, third highest total of his nine year major league career . . . Finished season with seven game hitting streak in which he hit .433 (13-for-30).

Career: Most productive year in big league career was 1969 when he set personal highs in home runs (26) and rbi (76) . . . Hit over .300 in three of his four seasons in the minors including .329 for Rochester in '65, but has never quite reached that figure in the majors . . . Hit .293 in '67, and came close again in '69 when a 3-for-38 slump in the last nine games brought his average down to a final .285 . . . Chosen to play in all star game in '69 and was selected to The Sporting News A.L. all star team.

Belted three home runs vs. Chicago on 4/29/70 to join Boog Powell and Curt Blefary as only O's ever to have accomplished that feat . . . Has hit two home runs in a game six times (3 at home) . . . Missed most of spring training in '68 because of severe ankle injury sustained in Puerto Rico the previous December . . . Experimented with batting left-handed in early part of '71 and singled first two times up hitting from the left side on opening day off Casey Cox, but diminishing returns soon set in and he abandoned the project several weeks later.

ALCS/WS: Had only one hit in the '66 world series, but it was a 430' home run that won the third game against the Dodgers, 1-0 . . . In game four that year he made a fine leaping catch of Jim Lefebvre's 8th inning drive that would have tied the score at 1-1 if Paul hadn't caught up to it . . . That was the game in which O's captured the world championship with another 1-0 victory . . . Was leading hitter in '70 series with .474 average (9-for-19) and tied record for most hits in a five game series.

His surprise 22 foot bunt in the 12th inning with two strikes, two outs and Mark Belanger on third won the first ALCS game ever played back in '69 vs. the Twins . . . He was 0-for-4 on the day and 3-for-42 at the time . . . In the third game of the same championship series which the Orioles swept, Paul went 5-for-6 with a home run, two doubles and five rbi.

Has made at least two other memorable catches in post-season competition, both in '70 . . . One was a back to the plate play on Brant Alyea's 430' drive to deepest center at Metropolitan Stadium in Minnesota in the first game of the championship series, and the other was the same kind of play in the second game of the world series on a long drive by Reds' pinchhitter Jimmy Stewart with two out in the 9th and the Birds ahead by just one run.

Miscellaneous: Outstanding all around athlete at Manual Arts High School in L.A. . . . Originally signed by the Mets . . . Had hit only .228 in his first pro season in California League and struck out 147 times, but O's were impressed with him and selected him in first year draft the following November . . . On the same day the Birds chose Blair they also selected Curt Motton and Dave May from other organizations . . . Leading scorer in Orioles winter basketball team for fifth straight year . . . Averaged better than 30 points per game.

AL BUMBRY

Born in Fredericksburg, Va., lives in King George, Va.

1973 Season: Named American League "Rookie of the Year" by The Sporting News and the Baseball Writers Association of America . . . Quickly established himself as one of the most exciting players to ever wear O's uniform . . . Led club in hitting (.337), triples (11) and slugging percentage (.500) . . . Did not have enough plate appearances to qualify among hitting leaders in the league . . . Tied for league lead in triples . . . Smashed three triples against Milwaukee September 22 to set club record and tie A.L. record that had gone unmatched for 34 years . . . Ben Chapman, of 1939 Cleveland Indians, was last A.L. player to hit three in a game, while Ernie Banks did it with the Chicago Cubs in June 1966.

Broke into line-up May 6 and was employed regularly against righthanders after that . . . Batted .342 (115-for-336) against righthanders . . . Hit first big league home run, off Oakland's Catfish Hunter, May 9 . . . Three of his seven circuit clouts were against Hunter . . . Average was .250 on first of June . . . Hit .352 (107-for-304) over rest of year . . . Finished with a rush, hitting .409 in September . . . Batted .366 for the year against eastern division clubs, including .433 vs. Boston and .408 against Cleveland . . . Tied club record with five hits against Milwaukee June 25 . . . Went 15-for-21 in five game stretch September 8-11 . . . Collected four hits against Cleveland September 8 and four against Boston September 11 . . . Hit .344 (11-for-32) as designated hitter . . . Speediest runner in O's organization . . . Stole 23 bases in 33 tries . . . Beat out eight bunts for base hits . . . Played last winter for La Guaira in Venezuelan League and led circuit in hitting (.367), triples (6) and stolen bases (20).

Career: Got late start in baseball career but has moved rapidly to the majors . . . Led International League in hitting (.345) and triples (15) in 1972 and was named Topps "Player of the Year" for the I.L. by vote of National Association Baseball Writers . . . Also won Rawlings Silver Glove award for defensive excellence in 1972 . . . Started 1972 season at Asheville in Southern League but was promoted to Rochester after first month because of injury to Rich Coggins . . . Third O's player to win "Rookie of the Year" laurels—Ron Hansen (1960) and Curt Blefary (1965) were others.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Graduated from Virginia State College in 1968 . . . Went there on basketball scholarship after averaging 32 points a game in high school . . . Did not play college baseball until senior year . . . Took up baseball at the urging of O's scout Dick Bowie, who signed him . . . Called to active duty as second lieutenant in U.S. Army two months after starting pro career in 1969 with Stockton . . . Served 11-month tour of duty in Viet Nam as platoon leader . . . Single.

MIKE CUELLAR

1973 Season: Characterized by slow start and fast finish . . . Won only two during first two months of the season, but compiled 16-7 record from June 15 on . . . Second on O's staff behind Jim Palmer in wins (18), innings pitched (267) and strikeouts (140) but allowed most hits (265) and home runs (29) . . . He won 10 of his last 11 decisions starting August 9 . . . Had six game winning streak broken by Boston September 5, then closed out season with four straight triumphs . . . He was 6-1 in August and 5-1 in September.

Very successful against western division clubs, winning 10 of 14 . . . Earned three wins without losing against Minnesota and Texas and was 3-1 against Cleveland . . . Beat Nolan Ryan and Angels twice . . . Hooked up with Ryan in classic duel July 19 that went 11 innings before O's won, 3-1 . . . Ryan had no-hitter into 8th inning before Mark Belanger spoiled it . . . Cuellar scattered nine hits and fanned 12, highest single game total of year for O's pitcher . . . Hurlled 12 inning complete game to edge Milwaukee, 4-3, June 25 . . . Went 10 innings to beat New York, 5-4, September 17 . . . In five years with O's has compiled 103-53 record with 94 complete games, 19 shutouts and 3.04 earned run average.

Turned in great effort but lost against Oakland in third game of ALCS . . . Gave up home run to Campy Campaneris leading off 11th inning which pinned 2-1 defeat on him . . . Held A's to four hits and struck out 11 . . . First Oakland run in 8th inning scored on pop fly singles by Matty Alou and Joe Rudi sandwiched around Mike Andrews' sacrifice.

Career: Co-winner of Cy Young Award in 1969 with Denny McLain . . . Selected by The Sporting News as lefthander on 1969 American League all star team . . . Chosen to 1970 and 1971 A.L. all star squad . . . Did not appear in 1970 game but pitched two scoreless innings in 1971 game . . . Accounted for O's only win in 1969 World Series when he beat Mets in opening game . . . Won fifth game of 1970 World Series vs. Cincinnati which wrapped up title for O's . . . Born in LaPuente, Cal., now lives in Hacienda Heights, Cal.

1973 Season: Hit for second highest average in eight year career with O's despite unhappiness over second-string status . . . Batted .328 with 19-for-58 between the all star break and first of September . . . Feasted on Cleveland and Kansas City pitching . . . Hit .538 (7-for-13) against Indians with six rbi and .545 (6-for-11) against Royals . . . Had four hits and three runs batted in against Cleveland in nightcap of September 28 twin-bill . . . Caught Doyle Alexander when O's clinched Eastern Division title with victory over Milwaukee September 22 . . . Frequently voiced desire to be traded and threatened retirement at end of season.

The biggest hit of year, and perhaps in his career, came in fourth game of ALCS against Oakland . . . O's were trailing, 4-1, and were facing elimination when he smashed three-run homer off Vida Blue in 7th inning to tie game . . . Bob Grich's solo homer in 8th won it for O's and extended playoffs into fifth game . . . Etch played very well in championship series and hit .357 with 5-for-14.

Career: Most productive year with O's was 1970 when he hit .270 and had nine home runs . . . Has been platooned against lefthanded pitchers last several years . . . Took over as O's no. 1 catcher as rookie in 1966 after veteran receiver Dick Brown was stricken with brain tumor . . . Caught 85 of club's first 95 games that year before suffering broken hand . . . Recovered in time to catch every inning in '66 World Series . . . Named to A.L. all star squad in 1966 and 1967 but did not appear in either game . . . Broke up longest game (by innings) in club history with 19th inning home run to beat Senators June 4, 1967 at Memorial Stadium.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Signed big bonus contract with O's following high school graduation . . . Jim Wilson and Fred Hofmann were primarily responsible for his signing with O's . . . Of French-Basque descent . . . Has financial interest in several businesses in Hacienda Heights area . . . Excellent golfer . . . He and his wife, Aggie, were married January 13, 1962 and are the parents of two daughters: Kim (1/17/64) and Lisa (12/1/65).

*Signed with Baltimore affiliate as free agent on 6/29/67 . . . selected in 1967 summer draft regular phase (Baltimore's 1st selection).

Born in Muskegon, Mich., but grew up in Long Beach, Calif., and still lives there.

1973 Season: Set an all-time major league fielding record with .995 percentage . . . Committed only five errors while handling 945 total chances . . . He led A.L. second basemen in putouts (431), assists (509) and doubleplays (130), as well as total chances and percentage . . . Played 33 games before committing first error at Cleveland May 18 . . . Followed with stretch of 47 games before he was charged with second error July 11 vs. California . . . Ran off string of 33 more errorless games before committing third miscue August 13 at Texas . . . Middle man in two triple plays (around-the-horn) turned in by O's—July 7 vs. Oakland and September 20 vs. Detroit . . . Won his first Gold Glove as A.L.'s top defensive second baseman.

He led O's with 29 doubles, 83 runs and 107 walks and was second in hits . . . He also was the only player to appear in all the club's 162 games . . . Got off to slow start at the plate . . . Batted only .229 up to all star break, but hit .282 (68-for-241) rest of the year . . . Twice hit two home runs in a game: May 28 off Minnesota's Jim Kaat and July 3 (first game) against Milwaukee's Chris Short . . . Hammered his second career grand-slam homer off Gaylord Perry in first game of two-nighter at Memorial Stadium July 26 . . . Had hit his first in 1972 off Gaylord's brother Jim . . . Hit 8th inning solo home run to snap 4-4 tie and give O's 5-4 victory over A's in fourth game of 1973 ALCS . . . Was one of eight Orioles with more than 10 stolen bases . . . He had 17.

Career: Led Orioles in hitting in 1972 and was selected to A.L. all star squad after injuries sidelined starter Luis Aparicio and alternate Toby Harrah . . . Earned lengthy list of awards for outstanding year at Rochester in 1971: Named "Minor League Player of the Year" by The Sporting News and Topps Chewing Gum; selected International League "Player of the Year" and was awarded Rawlings Silver Glove as top fielding shortstop in minor leagues, based upon fielding percentage . . . Led International League in hitting, home runs and total bases . . . First joined O's in late June 1970, when he was leading International League in hitting with .383 average . . . Sent back to Rochester in spring of '71 to work on power . . . Responded with 32 regular season homers and added five in post-season playoffs . . . Had hit only 22 in first four seasons as pro . . . Named "Most Valuable Player" in Texas League in 1969.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Outstanding baseball and football player at Wilson High School in Long Beach . . . Passed up avalanche of college scholarship offers to sign with O's . . . Al Kubi and Bobby Mattick were largely responsible for signing him . . . He and his wife, the former Marty Johnston, were married June 19, 1971.

On Rochester roster . . . Born in St. Thomas, Virgin Islands, now lives in Randallstown, Md., a Baltimore suburb . . . Missed last three weeks of 1973 season and championship series after suffering dislocated left ankle against Cleveland September 9 . . . Spent last winter playing for Santurce in Puerto Rico Winter League to regain skills . . . Ankle responded favorably . . . Saw limited action with O's in '73 . . . His two-run homer in 10th inning gave O's 6-4 win over Milwaukee July 4 in game suspended by curfew the night before . . . His only hit after all star break was two-run homer vs. Minnesota August 8.

Has been with O's since 1968 except for last six weeks of 1972 season when he was dealt to Chicago Cubs in waiver deal for Tommy Davis . . . Missed part of '72 campaign with O's because of sore right shoulder and numbness in right hand caused by calcium deposit at base of neck . . . Did not play winter ball after 1971 season but led O's in hitting with .400 average (16-for-40) on club's 18 game Japan tour . . . Earl Weaver and Frank Lane were instrumental in convincing O's to draft him from Angels' Seattle affiliate (PCL) in 1967 . . . Played for Weaver in Puerto Rico . . . Smashed 109 home runs for Jalisco (Mexican League) from '64 thru '67 . . . Hit grand-slam homer off Barry Moore of Chicago White Sox at Memorial Stadium July 20, 1970.

Has .357 average (6-for-17) for three championship series (six games), and .250 mark (10-for-40) in three world series (12 games) . . . Had memorable series vs. Reds in '70 . . . Batted .364 (4-for-11) including homer and double . . . Unloaded home run off Gary Nolan in 5th inning of game one to tie score at 3, and O's went on to win, 4-3 . . . In 2d game his two run double in 5th broke a 4-4 tie and gave O's 6-4 lead . . . Birds ultimately won 6-5 . . . It was in that game also that Ellie, Bernie Carbo and umpire Ken Burkhart were involved in controversial play at plate (see page 52).

He and his wife, Merle, were married 1/14/70, and are the parents of a son, Ryan (8/3/72).

*Signed by Baltimore affiliate as free agent on 9/8/60.

Born in Billings, Mont., now lives in Lutherville, Md.

1973 Season: Dave went through a streaky year, starting with three consecutive wins followed by six straight losses, then two more wins and three more losses Dropped three of his last four decisions to finish with a .500 record Did his best pitching between June 27 and September 11 when he posted 11-5 record He was involved in 10 shutouts, including six when he was the victim Three were by 1-0 scores, two by 2-0 and the other was 3-0 His four shutouts raised his career total to 29, a club record Narrowly averted serious injury when he was struck above left ear by line drive off bat of Cleveland's Chris Chambliss in first game of July 26 two-night doubleheader Suffered abrasions and bruises of ear canal and missed one start.

Had 17 game winning streak that lasted nearly five years against Teaxs (nee Washington), which ended August 28 when Rangers beat him, 5-3 Streak started when Rangers were in Washington and the loss was his first to that club since September 12, 1968 During the streak he started 21 times and pitched 12 complete games, three shutouts and had a 1.65 earned run average He defeated the Rangers twice during 1973 to run his lifetime record to 27-5 against that franchise.

He was 8-8 against eastern division clubs and 9-9 vs. western division teams In winning first three starts he allowed only two runs and 10 hits in 27.2 innings Went 3-1 against New York but only 1-3 against Detroit and Oakland He had an 8-6 record after the all star break.

Hitting: Has nine lifetime home runs in regular season play (including a grand-slam off Oakland's Chuck Dobson) and all were hit between 1968 and 1972 Also has two homers in world series play: one off Mets' Jerry Koosman in 1969 and the other (a grand-slam) off Cincinnati's Wayne Granger in 1970 World Series The grand-slam is the only one ever hit by a pitcher in world series play.

Career: Club's leading all-time winner with 165 career victories Also holds Orioles career records for games (373), innings (2,394), shutouts (29) and complete games (107) Has compiled 117-65 record in past six seasons Shares two A.L. records with Johnny Allen of 1937 Cleveland Indians as result of 17 straight wins from September 22, 1968 through July 30, 1969—most consecutive wins (17) and most wins at start of season (15) Streak ended August 3, 1969 when Minnesota pinch-hitter Rich Reese hit grand-slam home run off him Had 13 game winning streak in 1971 season, despite missing five weeks because of strained flexor tendons in left elbow.

Holds or shares several club pitching marks for single season: most wins (24), most starts (40), most strikeouts (202) and lowest era (1.95) Three-time member of A.L. all star squad ('69-'70-'72) Was losing pitcher in 1972 game won by National League, 4-3, in 10 innings at Atlanta Selected to the American League all star team by The Sporting News in 1969, when he also was named "most valuable Oriole" that season and was named as the lefthanded pitcher on the all time Orioles' team Pitches: fastball, curve, slider Excellent at moving ball around Excellent control.

ALCS/WS: Has performed magnificently in post-season play during career . . . Has 4-2 record in four world series and 3-1 mark in four championship series . . . Defeated Dodgers, 1-0, on Frank Robinson's home run in fourth and final game of 1966 World Series . . . Pitched 11 inning, three hit shutout against Twins in second game of 1969 ALCS and struck out 11 en route to 1-0 win over Dave Boswell . . . Lost to Mets, 2-1, in second game of 1969 World Series despite route-going six-hitter . . . In 1970 he beat Twins in second game of championship series, 11-3, as O's cracked game wide open with seven runs in the 9th and then defeated Reds, 9-3, in game no. 3 of world series.

Won opening game of 1971 ALCS against Oakland, 5-3, then captured two of three decisions in four appearances against the Pirates in the world series: Won first game, 5-3; lost the fifth game, 4-0; won game no. six in relief and also appeared in relief in the seventh and final game . . . He lost to Catfish Hunter, 6-3, in game no. 2 of the 1973 ALCS after yielding four homers . . . It was the first championship series loss for the O's following 10 straight triumphs.

Miscellaneous: Signed to big bonus contract with Orioles in 1960 by Jim Russo and Jim Wilson after brilliant career in American Legion ball in Billings . . . His high school did not field team . . . Tossed two hit shutout against Kansas City A's in major league debut September 26, 1962 . . . Has pitched two one-hitters in O's career: October 1, 1964 vs. Washington and May 15, 1969 vs. Minnesota . . . Most disappointing year in career was 1967 when he was bothered by sore elbow and finished with 7-7 record . . . Excellent golfer . . . He and his wife, Jean, are the parents of three children: Jeff (3/19/63), Pamela (6/15/64) and Susan (9/23/69).

Hit 61 homers in two National League seasons: 10 vs. Hou., 8 vs. Cinn. and Phila., 6 vs. Chi. and L.A., 5 vs. Pitts. and S.F., 4 vs. S.D., and 3 vs. Mont., N.Y. and St. L. . . . Hit at least one home run in every N.L. park but Busch Stadium (St. Louis) . . . Hit one grand-slam in N.L., off Wayne Simpson in '71 at Riverfront Stadium in Cincinnati.

Miscellaneous/Personal: Attended Ithaca College, majoring in radio-television journalism . . . Spent last winter in Baltimore and played for the Birds' basketball team . . . He and his wife, the former Carolyn Lattimer, were married in November.

MARK WEEMS

Tragedy struck young Mark Weems, an outstanding young pitching prospect in the Orioles system, on New Year's Day when he drowned while swimming off the beach near Porto Cabello, Venezuela. Weems, 22, was enjoying a day off with teammates Don Hood, Bob Bailor and Wayne Garland when he was pulled out to sea by a treacherous undertow. All four were playing for the Magallanes club in the Venezuelan League under Manager Jim Frey. Weems, from Azusa, California, was enjoying a fine winter at the time of his death with a 2-1 record and a league leading 11 saves, following a successful season at Rochester in the International League. Weems who was to report to the Orioles training camp at Miami Stadium on February 25th along with the other pitchers and catchers on the Baltimore roster is survived by his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Frank C. Weems of Azusa, Cal.
